A New Dawn Brings A New Beginning

A lifetime is a series of beginnings. The rising sun signals a new day and with it a new beginning.

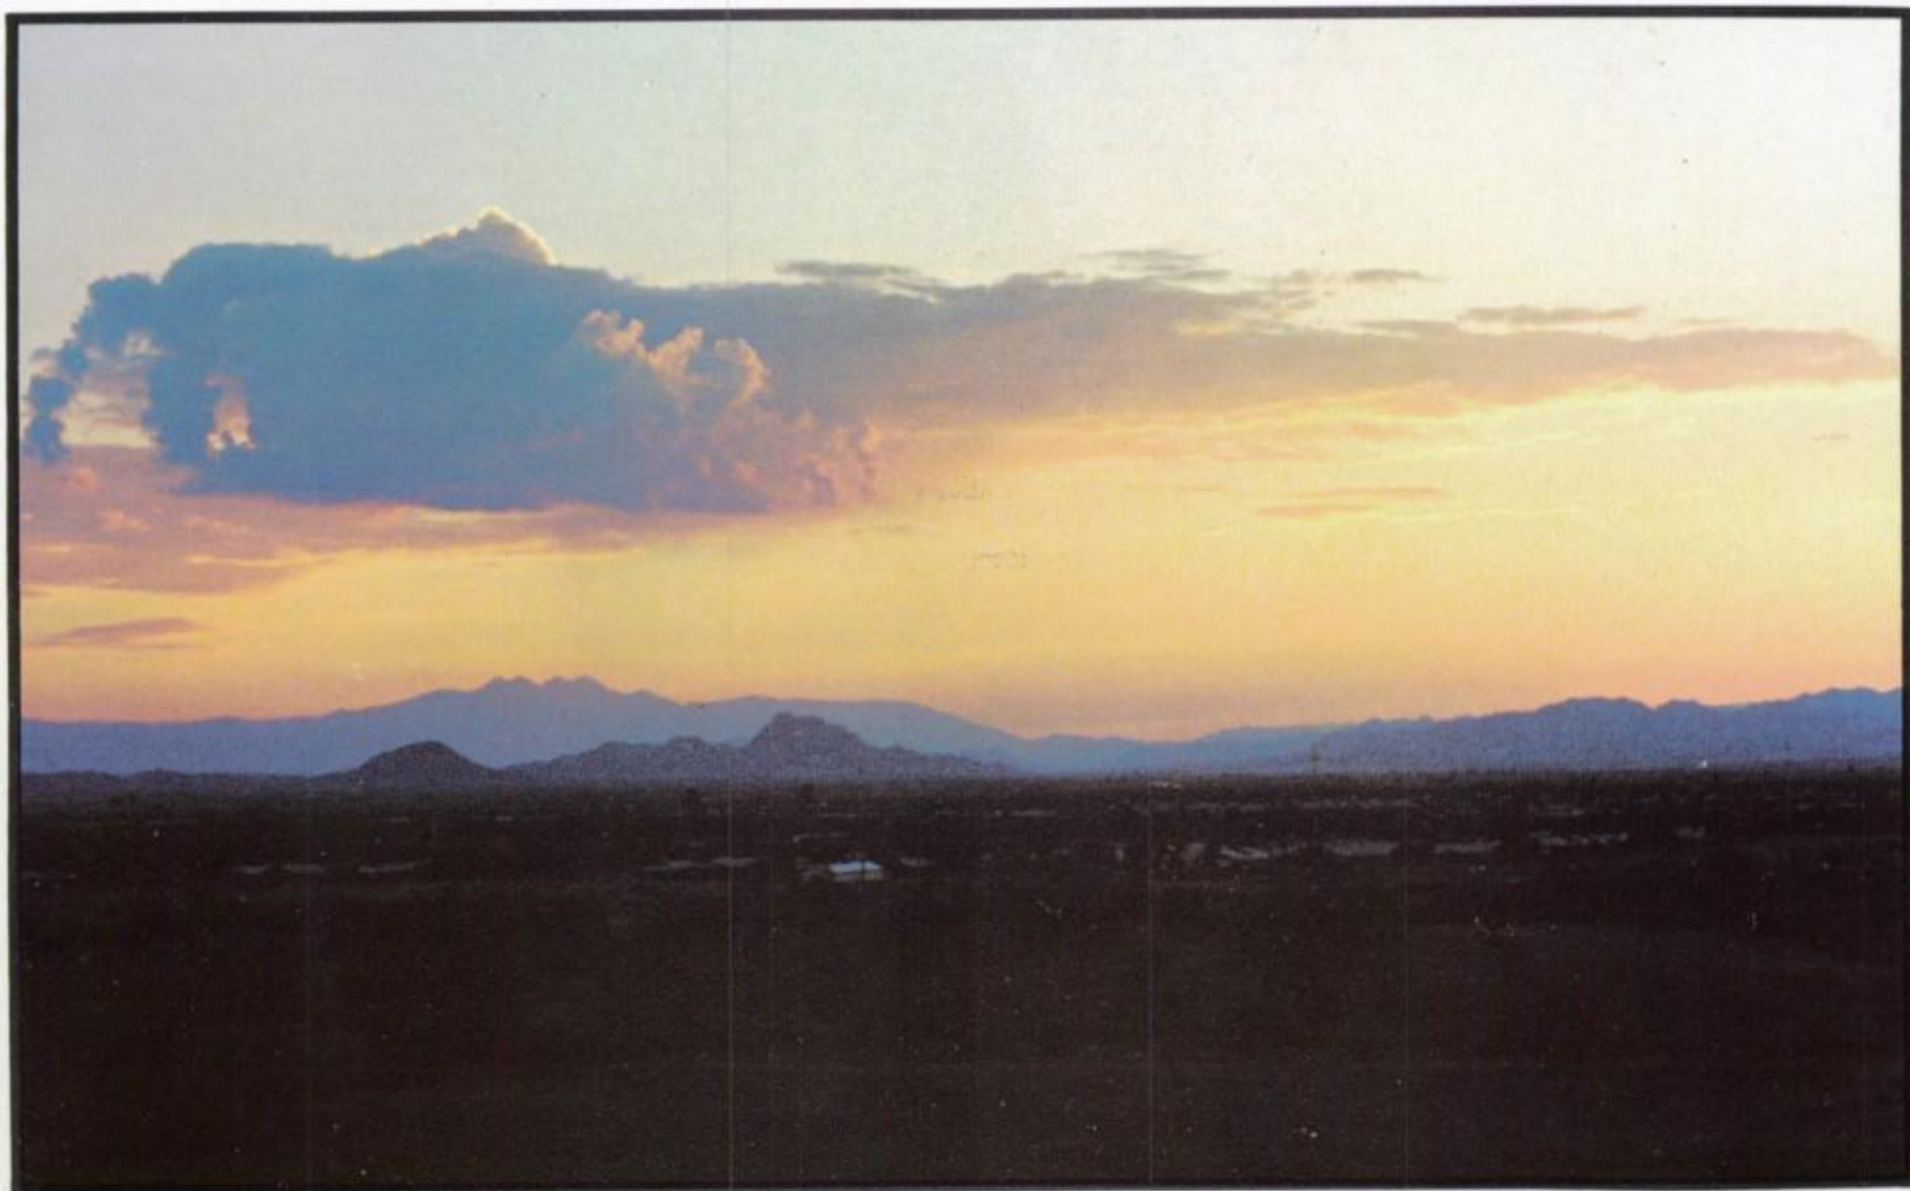

Each morning man wakes and embarks on a continuing journey—a journey full of new experiences, lessons, and mistakes.

The ability to start afresh enables man to correct his mistakes and start life anew. But man cannot erase his mistakes completely, he can only learn from them.

Graduation from high school signifies an end and a beginning for a student. It symbolizes the end of childhood and the beginning of maturity.

After high school young men and women begin to find their niche in the outside world. Some attend college to prepare for a career. Some marry, and still others set out to experience life in all its fullness.

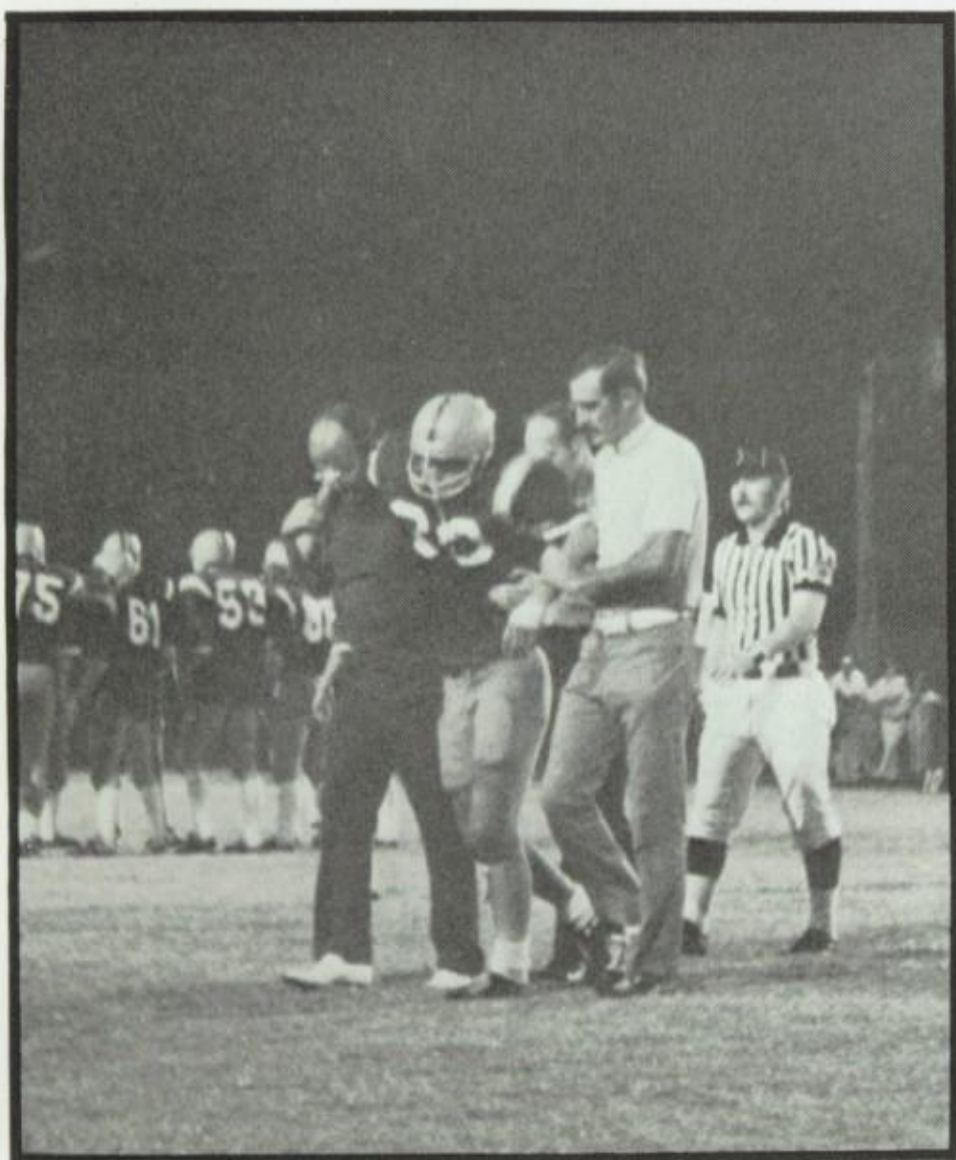

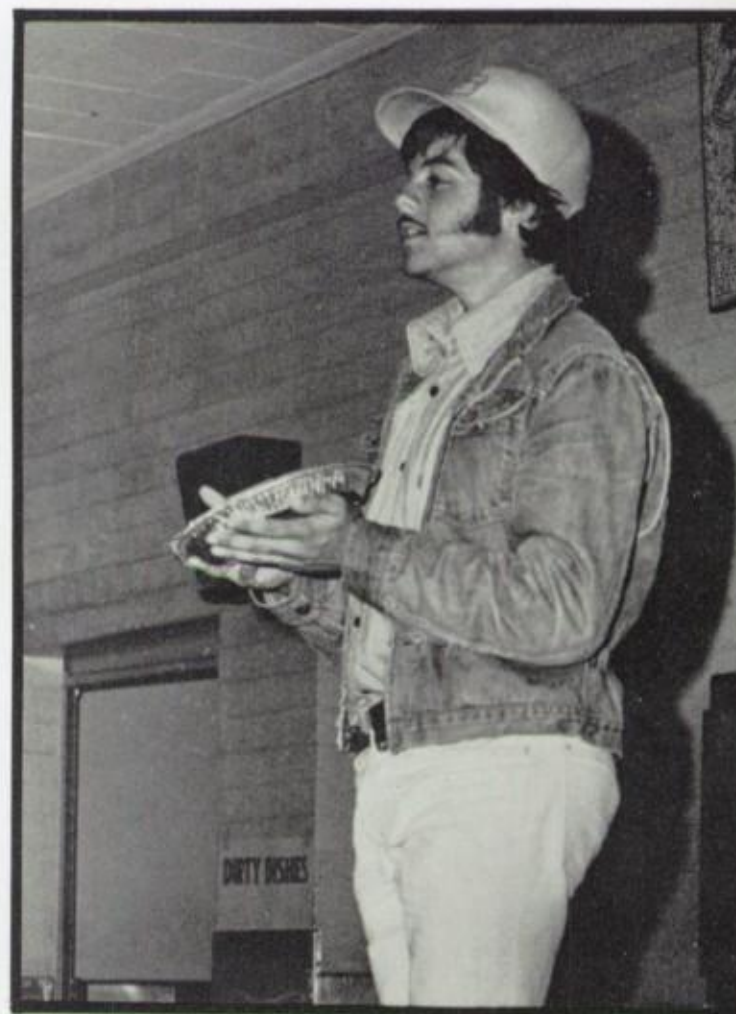

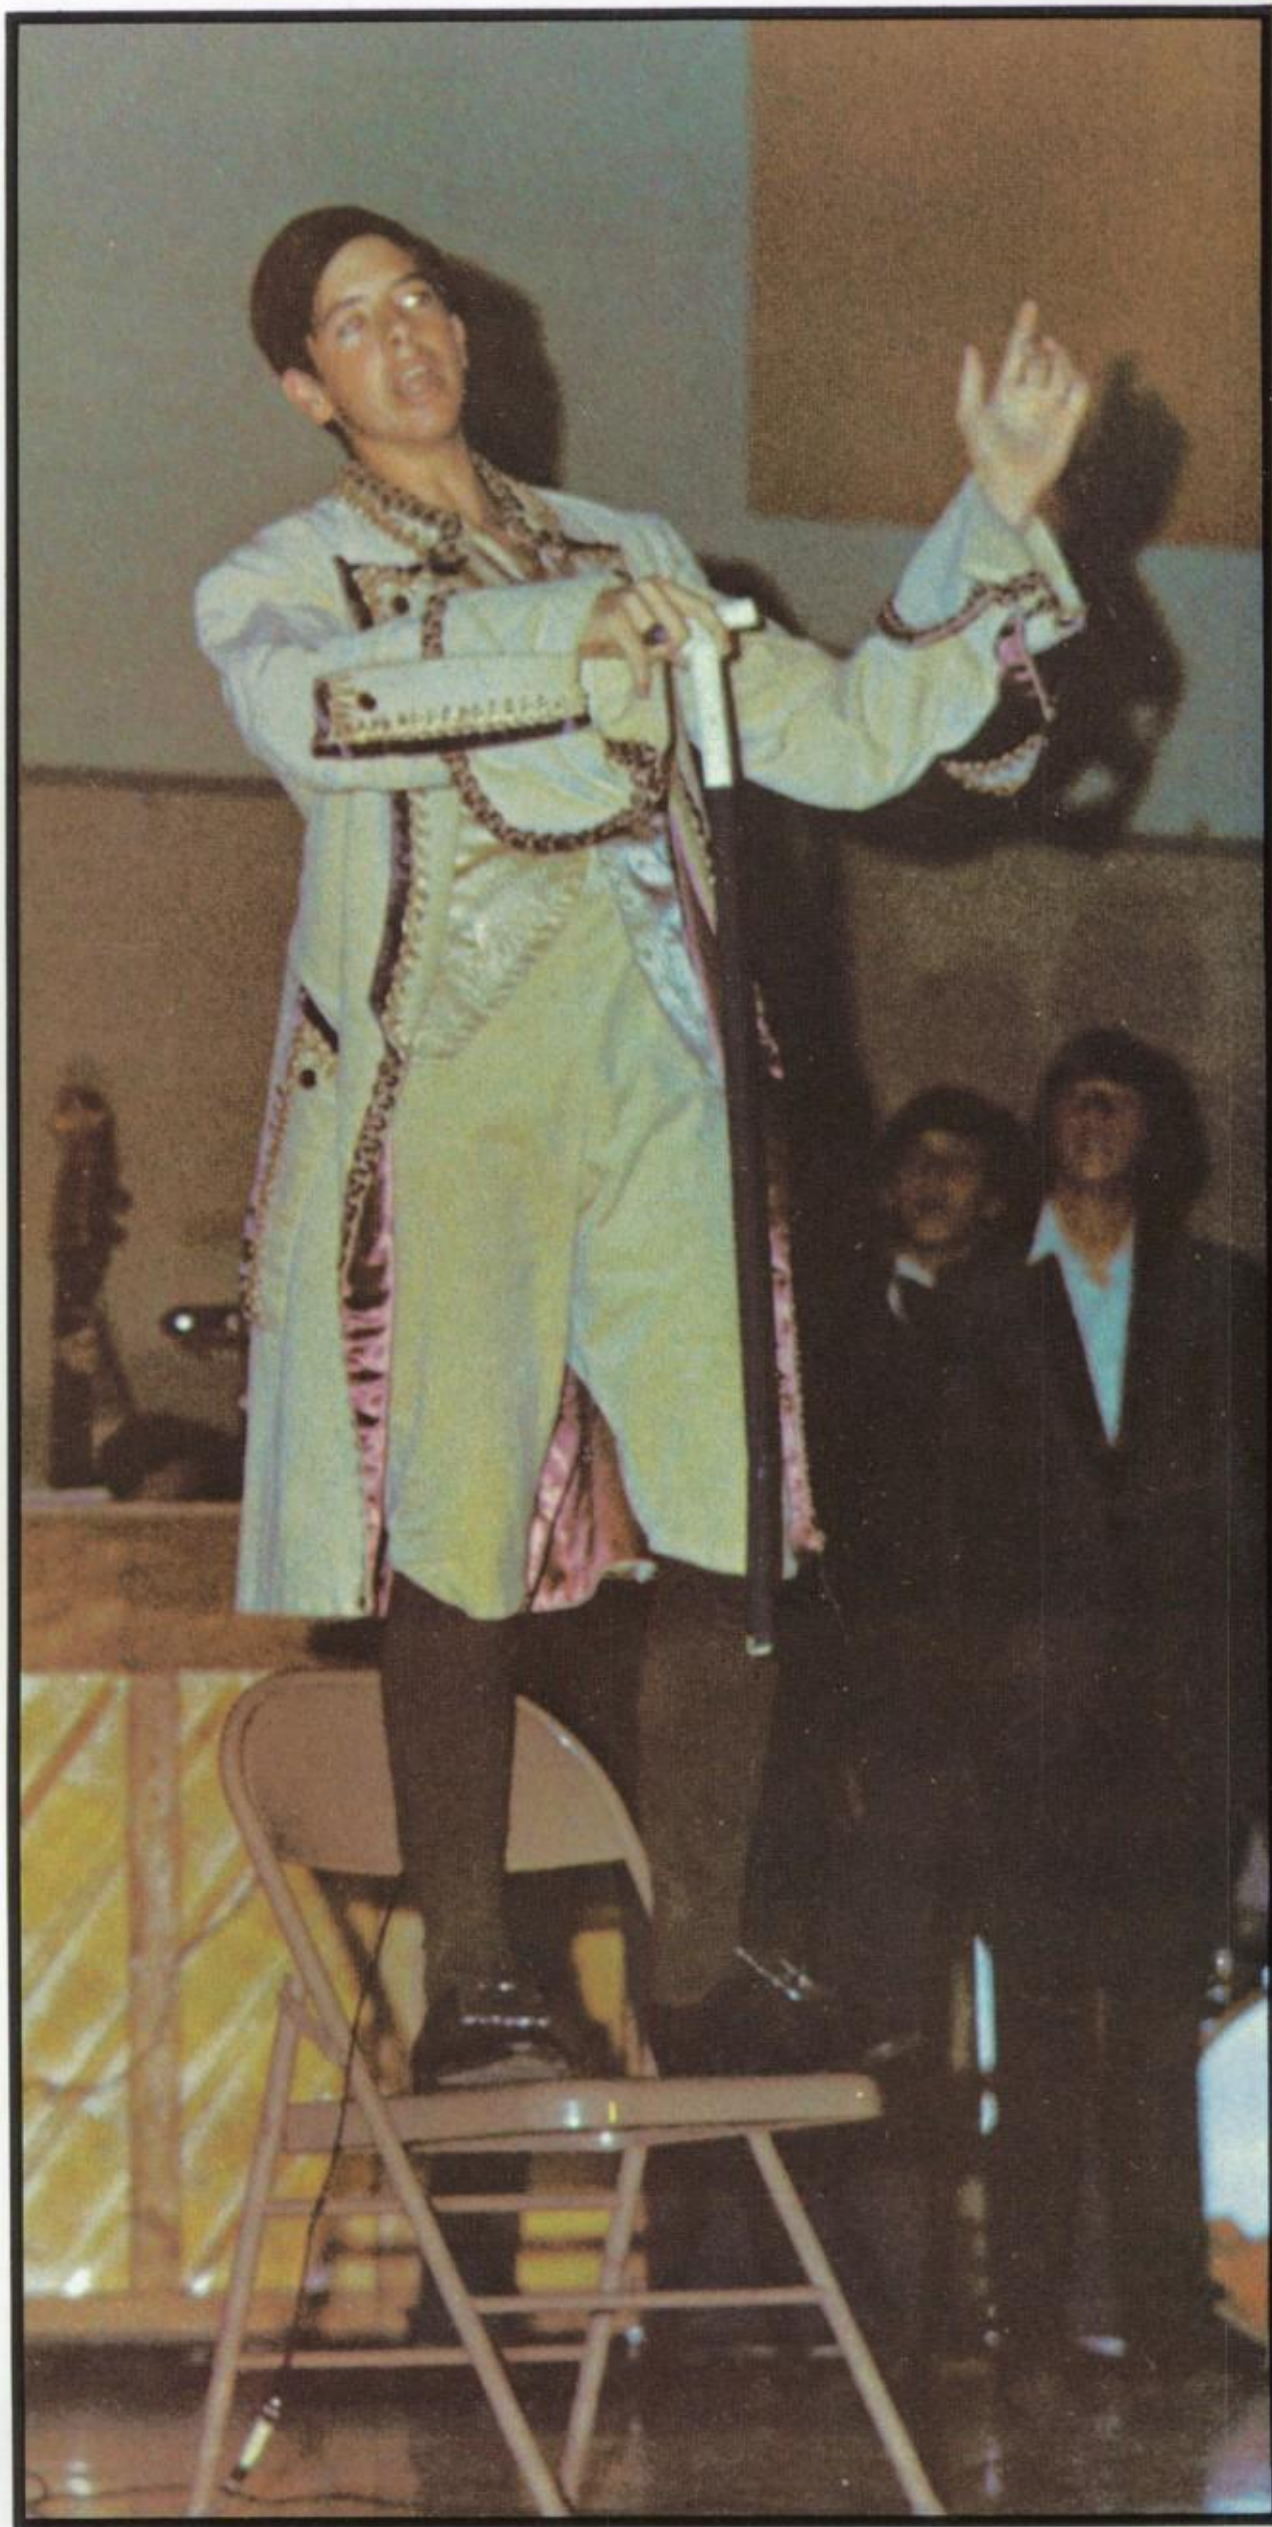

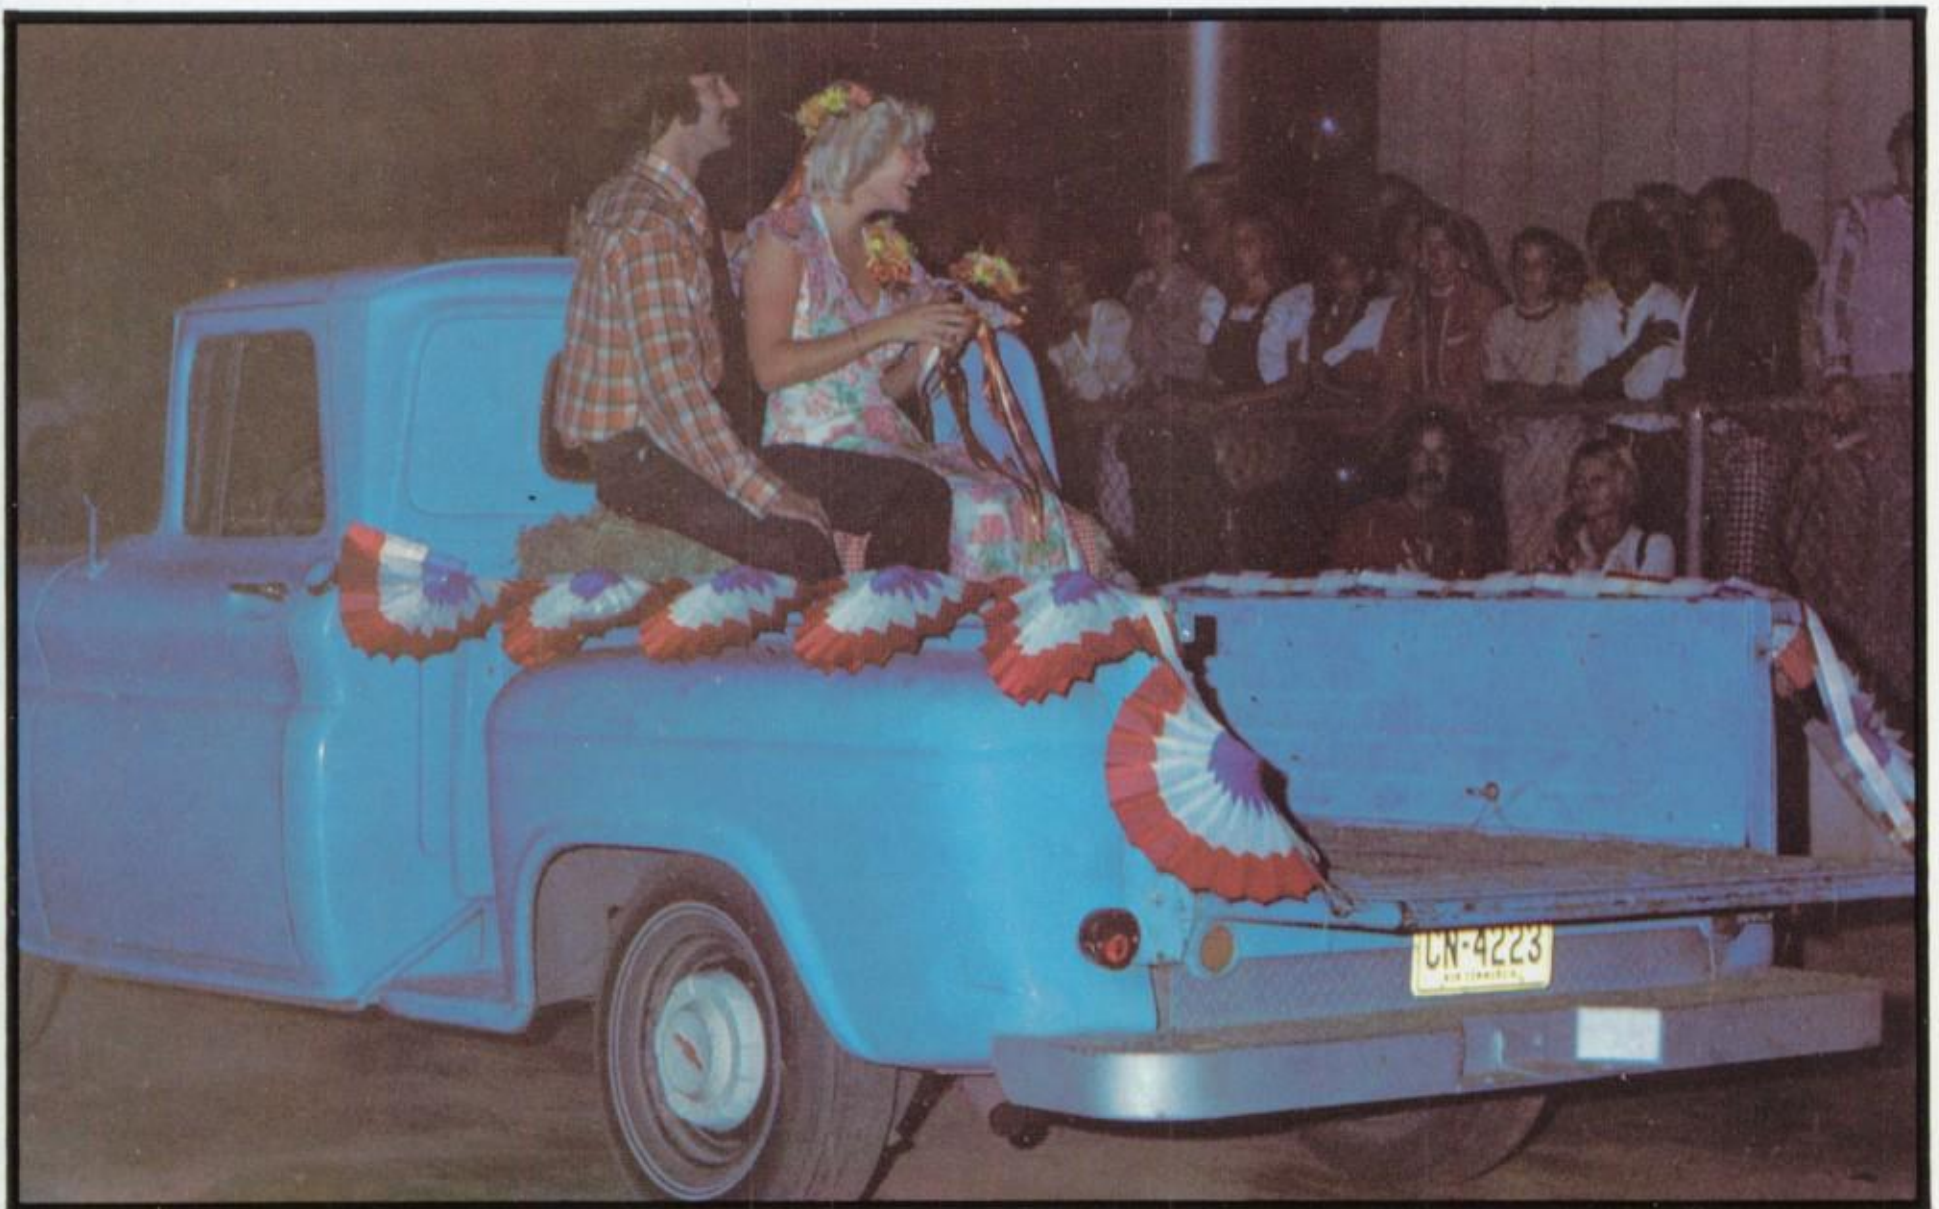

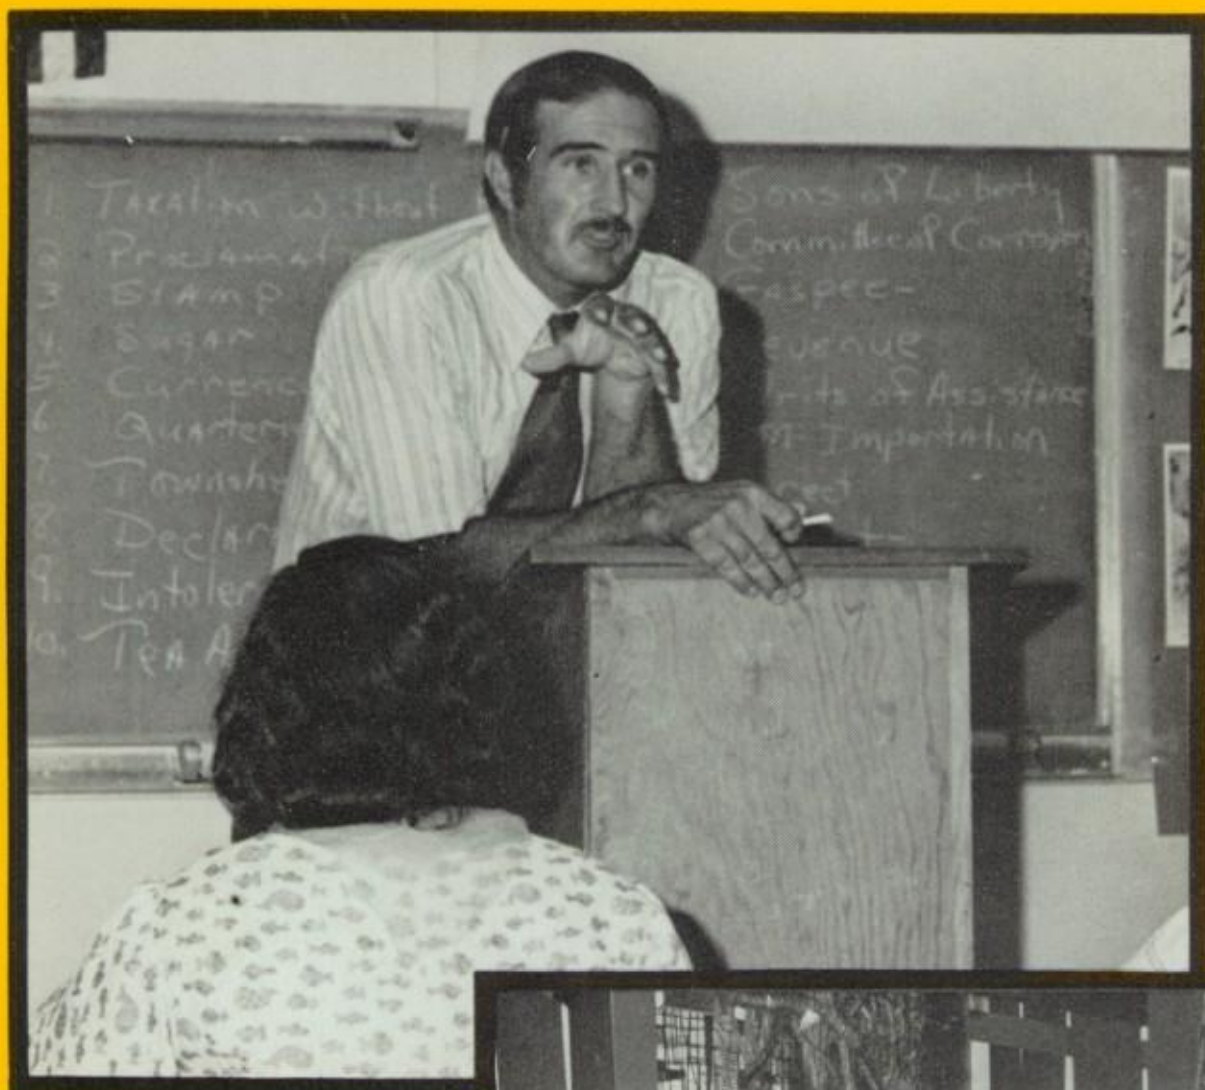

I have always felt that the moment when first you wake up in the morning is the most wonderful of the 24 hours. No matter how weary or dreary you may feel, you possess the certainty that, during the day that lies before you, absolutely anything may happen. And the fact that it practically always doesn't, matters not one jot. The possibility is always there.

Hansen hits contract-breaking resignations by administrators

Board of Education vice-president John Hansen, in a Board meeting early in the year, voiced his concern about school administrators who leave the system "in the lurch" by resigning their posts to take jobs elsewhere.

Hansen suggested that the Phoenix Union High School District adopt a policy which discouraged administrative personnel from violating their contracts.

Mr. Art Grangaard spoke from the floor of the meeting to congratulate outgoing principal Raymond Weinhold on his work at Camelback.

Dr. Donald Covey named interim principal

Dr. Raymond Weinhold resigned his position as principal at Camelback early this year in order to accept a job with the Tempe Union High School District. Though Weinhold was principal for only a year, he was commended before the Board of Education for his work at Camelback by parent Art Grangaard.

Dr. Weinhold's replacement, Dr. Donald Covey, served as interim principal until a permanent principal could be named.

A return slip attendance reporting policy was reinstated at Camelback. The return slip method had been used some years ago, but was discontinued. According to associate principal Dr. Lorenzo Lisonbee, the policy helped to keep a better record than methods which had been used in the past.

Dr. Weinhold winds up work at CHS, as he takes a position with Tempe High District.

Business aided by aquisition of new machinery

Business department head Ms. Elva O'Quinn noted the addition of several new pieces of equipment to the department.

New were two electronic calculators, two electric typewriters, and two self-correcting model typewriters to aid teachers in their instruction.

Sylvester joins faculty as band director

William "Sly" Sylvester came from Bountiful, Utah to join Camelback's music department as the new band director. When asked if he had any concrete objective for the future, Mr. Sylvester replied that he wanted Camelback to have "the best band in the country."

He said that he would try to provide the motivation for his band to attain that goal.

Due to cutbacks in student enrollment in music classes, it became necessary to decrease the number of music courses to be offered. Mr. Grant Jenkins, the department head, directed all of the choral groups while Sylvester took care of the instrumentalists.

Mr. L. C. Hutchins taught two guitar classes but spent most of his time teaching Arizona Government.

Unipacs are newest English innovation

Short Story Unipacs were one of the new innovations in the English Department. The Unipacs were composed of a pre-test, the performance objective, the different components of the short story, various activities, a self-test, a question, and a post-test.

The pre-test and the self-test were graded by the student himself and the post-test was graded by the teacher. Short Story teacher Ms. Louise Ackridge stated that she felt that it was a good system, but that there should not be more than 35 students at most in a class.

When asked his opinion on the Short Story Unipacs, senior Tom Lord commented, "I think you remember more of what you learn because you use it over and over again."

Ms. Adrienna Sanden emphasizes the differences between verbs in 7th hour English 3 Class.

Sharon Bustos and Stacy Blackman prepare advertisement for Communications and Mass Media.

Short Story teacher, Ms. Louise Ackridge explains the Unipac activity to Senior Chris Gort.

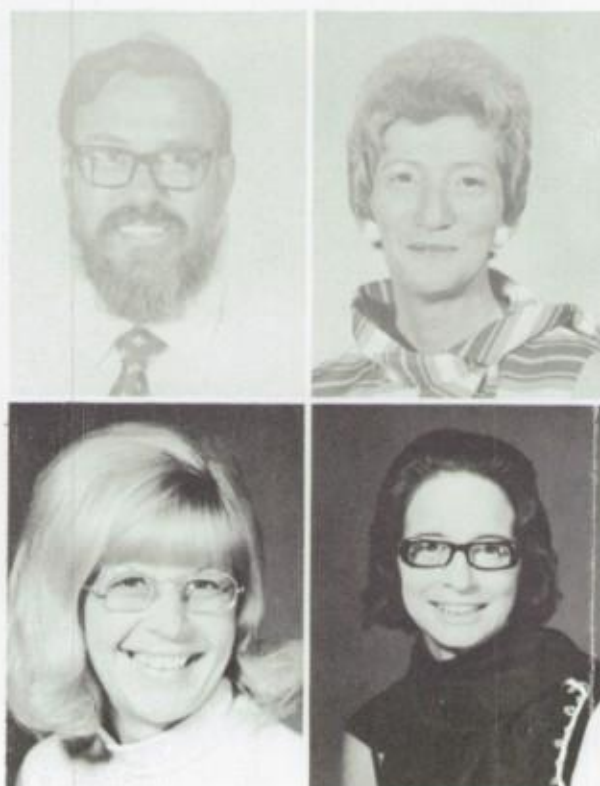

Annette Laitem and Diana Horn listen to the teacher's comments on their English lesson.

Participation, study needed in languages

Study and participation were two requirements needed to successfully learn a language," stated Ms. Mary Tate, department head. Foreign Language teachers stressed these points more this year than in previous years.

To generate interest in the language, students were encouraged to devise short skits and explore the language.

Top Row: Ms. Andree DeLisle, French 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 7A-8A, Spanish 1-2; under five yrs. at CHS . . . Charles Garcia, Spanish 1-2, 3-4, 7A-8A, over five yrs. at CHS . . . Ms. Ada Jones, Spanish 1-2, 5-6; over five yrs. at CHS . . . Ms. Kathleen Oates, Spanish 1-2, 3-4, 5-6; over five yrs. at CHS . . . Ms. Andree DeLisle points out grammar mistakes to students in sixth hour French class.

During third hour Spanish class, Ms. Ada Jones lectures students on the finer points of Spanish.

Teacher's aide Ms. Doris Purcell explains the day's assignment to her sixth hour class.

Reading Department stresses academic skills with tutors

With students reading from the second grade to college level, the Reading Department was stressing needed skills for each student.

Students were offered a variety of activities from a library of "mini-packs" designed to help them pass State reading requirements.

Library work included thorough reviewing of how to use the Readers Guide.

A new addition to the Reading Department was the Student Tutoring Program, which cooperated with the Learning Disabilities Center.

The program was designed to strengthen weak academic skills and help students in all of their subjects.

Ms. Ann Tear prepares a film presentation for her third hour Modern Reading Technique class.

Third Row: Ms. Ann Tear, department head; Modern Reading Techniques; under five yrs. at CHS.

Personal skills aided by video- tape machine

Using the video-tape machine, the Girls Physical Education Department was able to analyze individual skills in sports such as gymnastics, tennis, golf and badminton to improve personal performance.

Ms. Denise Jobski's dance classes used some new exercises learned from a summer class at ASU. The new exercises were designed to increase flexibility and muscle tone.

Ms. Sally Reiland, Physical Education, Gymnastics, Dance; under five years at CHS . . . Third Row: Ms. Janet Shaler, department head; Physical Education, Lifetime Sports, Advanced Sports; under five years at CHS.

Enrollment increase due to new courses

Because of the new course offerings, the enrollment for Boys' Physical Education is up more than in the past several years.

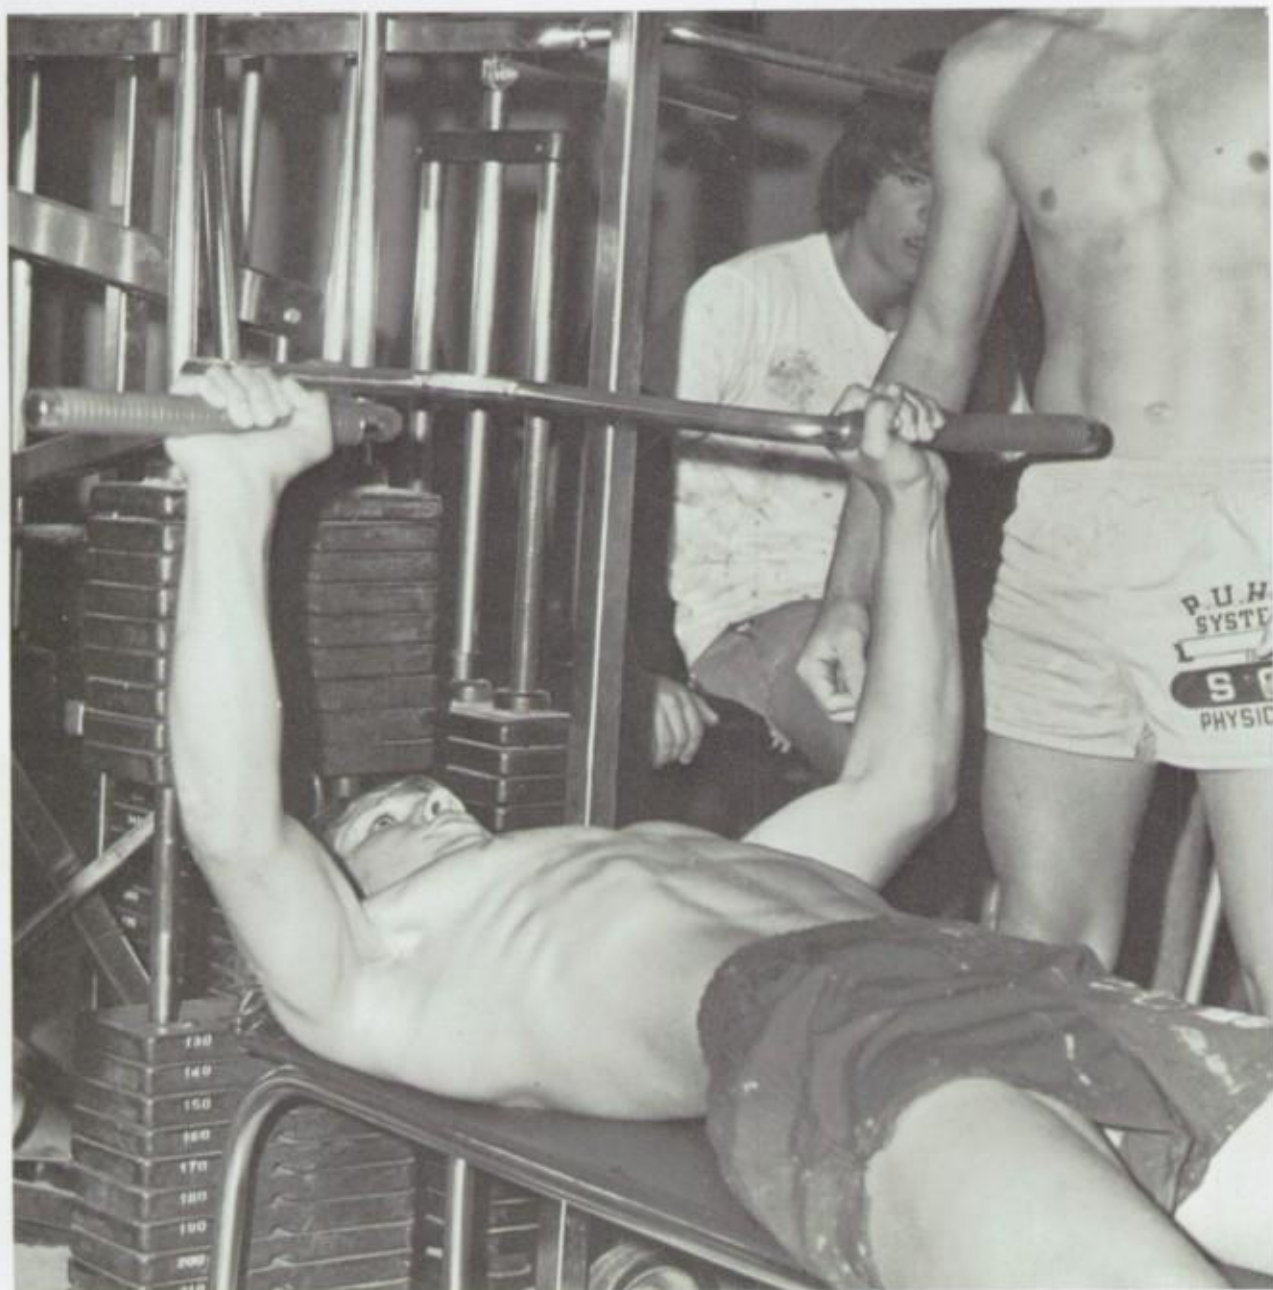

New courses included intermediate and advanced weight training, intermediate co-ed racket sports, and co-ed softball and volleyball.

Mr. Jim Foster, who taught part-time P.E. and Health Education, and Mr. Lothar Goernitz, who taught Health Education, were both new to the department.

Using the Universal Gym, students work to build up their bodies during Weight Training.

Accent placed with children's primary needs

If a student realizes the importance of a child's basic needs then their own children will grow up to be happy, secure, productive adults," said Ms. Diane Nowlin, teacher of Child Development.

To aid the children in play school, learning projects were created. These included stories and self-sticking flannel boards used to help illustrate the stories.

Top Row: Ms. Doris M. Barnett, department head; Bachelor Survival, World of Food and Children, Food and Family; over ten years at CHS . . . Ms. Heidi Hatsell, HERO; Human Relations; under five years at CHS . . . Second Row: Ms. Diane Nowlin, Child Development, Human Relations, Home Design; under five years at CHS . . . Denise Loupe cuts out material to use on the children's self-sticking boards during third hour.

In preparation for the tots, Annette Porter finishes construction of a puppet in Child Development.

During seventh hour Auto 1 class, Junior Kelly Wallace checks out an automobile engine.

Emphasis put on knowledge; security around automobiles

We learned the importance of safety around the shop, automobiles and power tools," said Lori Shelton, a student in Charles Fuentes' seventh hour Auto 1.

The students learned how to take apart engines and the names of the specific parts.

In the electronics classes taught by James Kennedy, students worked for their ham radio licenses and made electronic 'bugs.'

Soldering a wire, Richard Kelley makes an electronic bug in his first hour Electronics Class.

First Row: Richard Bridgman, I.C.E.; under five years at CHS . . . Robert Daniels, department head; Drafting 1-2, 3-4; under five years at CHS . . . Second Row: Larry Duvanal, Woodshop 1-2, 3-4; over ten years at CHS . . . Charles J. Students in Math Lab utilize individualized study programs

Tables spread around the room and individual study carrells contributed to the atmosphere of learning in the math lab. Each student followed a personalized program, proceeding at his own rate. A library of tests was set up so students could take a test when they felt ready for it.

Because all bookkeeping tasks were done by teachers' aide Mrs.

Moschovitis, teachers were able to spend more time working with the students on a one-to-one basis.

Calculators and adding machines were used in the lab to help the students complete their homework.

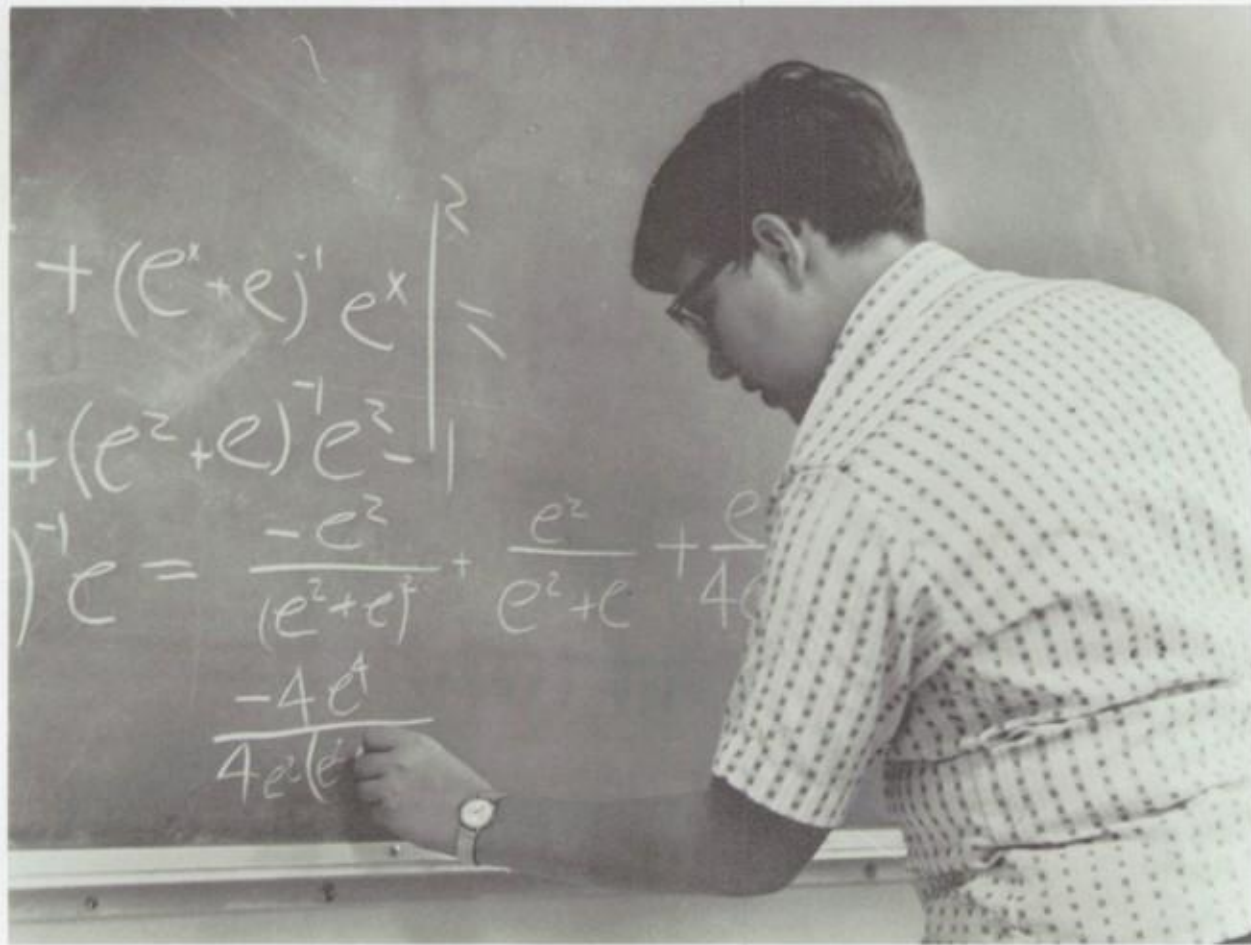

Mr. Karl Cox, new math teacher at Camelback this year, said, "Students using the math lab had the best available opportunity to learn."

Top Row: Dr. Scott S. Bull, department head; Introductory Algebra 1-2, Analysis 1-2A, Calculus 1-2AP; over ten years at CHS . . . Sounart, Geometry 1-2, Computer Math 1-2; over ten years at CHS.

AP Chemistry takes trip to Bagdad Mines

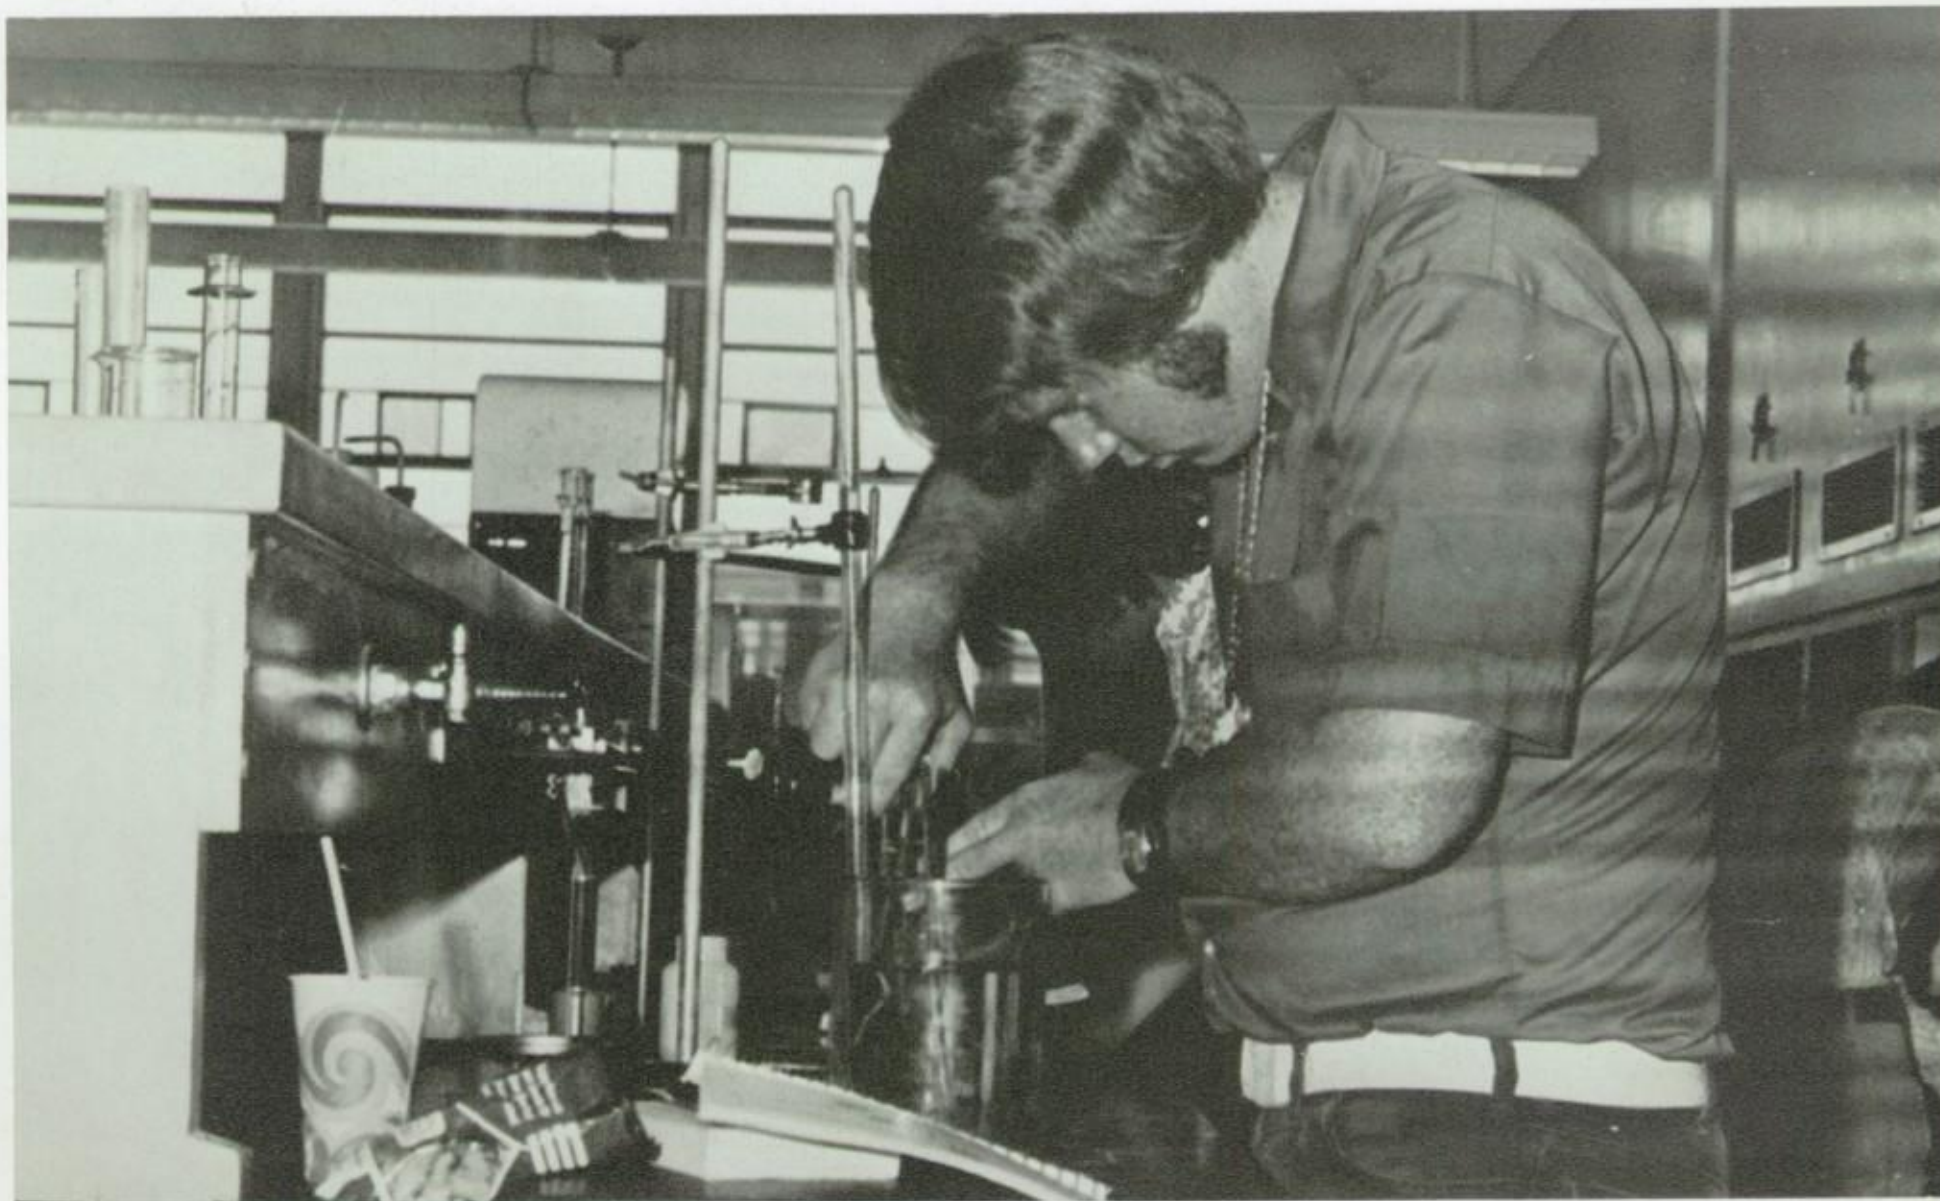

Advanced Placement Chemistry, taught by science department head Hobert Coffey, planned a number of field trips this year, including those to the Bagdad Copper Mines, a subsidiary of the Cyprus Mines Corporation, and to the Salt River Project Agricultural Research and Development Center, which deals with cotton research.

The science seminar gave a number of advanced science students the opportunity to research individual projects. Supervised by Ms. Ann Justus, the students explored such ideas as the make-up of TNT, the extraction of caffeine from tea, and the construction of heart-lung machines used in hospitals.

Over 1200 students enrolled in the ten science courses at CHS, taught by ten instructors.

John Masles, senior, a student in Hobert Coffey's fourth period AP Chemistry class, determines the total equivalent weight of magnesium.

During Ann Justus' science seminar class, Jon Spero performs an experiment concerning pollution and the accumulation of carbon monoxide.

Don Krell explains the difference between epithelial and connective tissues to his Anatomy and Physiology class. The class studied these tissues when dissecting cats during second semester.

Social Studies department tries Inquiry method

American History classes were putting more emphasis on the Inquiry Approach.

"This is a relatively new concept of teaching which gives the student a chance to form his own opinion," said Ms. Jane Watson, Social Studies department head.

Certain issues were presented, giving both the pros and cons through various reading materials. The Approach was geared so that the student could review the information in his own mind and draw his own conclusions.

Last Chance Day initiated as college information extra

Under the direction of Mr. Bill Owens, Camelback held its annual Private College Information Night on October 29. In addition to that program, the counseling department introduced a new method of acquainting students with colleges: Last Chance Day.

Said Mr. Owens, "Last Chance Day was for students who had done nothing" to secure their college opportunities.

Readmittance policy helps cut unexcused absence rate

Camelback's new attendance policy requires extra effort of the office staff as well as students," stated attendance clerk, Helen Moore. "This year, in addition to recording all absences, we must specify if they are excused, unexcused, or otherwise."

The procedure was time consuming, but the number of unexcused absences decreased sharply. "This was our goal," said Ms. Moore.

Masque and Gavel parents prove active

PTSA was a service organization that supported the whole school. The organization's purpose was to help any aspect of the school that needs and asks for support. Their activities included a Victory Food Fair April 11 in co-operation with the Boosters; provided and served food at both the College Night and the Parent Information Night; donated money to Girls State; helped with registration, and phoned on the Bond Issue.

MASQUE AND GAVEL PATRONS—First Row: Mrs. Patricia Douglass, Mrs. Byron, Mrs. Rose Cahall, Cathy Douglass . . . Second Row: Mrs. Rose Innocenti, Mrs. Jean Orlando, Mrs. Ruth Fife, Mrs. Mary Ellen Dyer.

"The Masque and Gavel Patrons have been very active for the first year of the organization," stated Drama teacher Ms. Anne Steele. Their activities included a coffee party on the opening night of "Look Homeward, Angel" where they were guests of Masque and Gavel at the preformance; served snacks and lunches at the January 11 Speech tournament held here; gave a Victory party after the AIA speech and Drama tournament; were in charge of the dinner at the end-of-the-year Masque and Gavel Banquet, and called parents on the Bond Election.

"This group is composed not only of parents but of teachers, students, and administrators. These people are all interested in assisting the Speech and Drama department in any way possible."

(Madame Elizabeth to Gant): "Six years, W. O. Six years - except to nod to. Time, what a thief you are."

'Look Homeward Angel' play portrays lives of Gant family

Look Homeward Angel" by Thomas Wolfe was presented by Masque & Gavel, November 18-22. The play takes place at the Dixieland boarding house during the early 20th century.

The story evolves around the lives of the Gant family and Eliza's stronghold on them.

Action throughout the play is characterized by Eugene's love affair with Laura, Eliza's over-protectiveness, and Ben's illness. Leading roles are played by Tod Norman, Larry Ashton, Cathy Douglass and Laura Cabanski.

(Ben to Mrs. Pert): "I'm comfortable when I'm with you, Fatty." (Mrs. Pert): "That's good, so am I."

(Dr. Maguire to Helen): "Not all the king's horses, not all the doctors in the world can help him." (Helen): "Have you tried everything?"

(Eugene to Laura): "How long do you plan to stay here, Miss James?" (Laura): "My name is Laura."

(Eugene to Laura): "I'll never forget. I won't live long enough. Will you forget?"

(Gant to Eliza): "Do you ever forgive me, Eliza? If I could make you understand."

Karen Richardson, as Nellie, is joined by all the girls as she vows to "Wash That Man Right Out of Her Hair."

Sue Barber, Stacy Belnap, and Kathy Crowley march in strict time as they sing "This is the Army!"

Portraying Polynesian villagers, Carol Wang and Debbie Condon attempt to accomodate sailor Greg Stapley with prospects of "Rum and Coca-Cola."

Portraying a fish, Tim Megyesi sings "Three Little Fishies" in the U.S.O. show.

Lack of auditorium forces choir into bandroom

Performing in the bandroom to sell-out audiences, Concert Choir presented its first winter musical on February 11, 12, and 13.

The show, "Scenes from 'South Pacific'," was based on Rodgers' and Hammerstein's World War II musical, "South Pacific." By deleting most of the dialogue, and adding a U.S.O. show, Choir succeeded in producing a compact musical-comedy.

To give more Choir members an opportunity to perform on an individual basis, parts were cast by major songs. The U.S.O. show was added for the same reason. "There are many talented kids in Choir," commented director Grant Jenkins. The insertion of the U.S.O. show gave more a chance to display their ability, and perform in front of an audience.

The major problem Choir faced, was the lack of a good site to present the show. Traditionally, the gym has been used, but to avoid a costly sound system rental, the bandroom was chosen instead.

Using hand gestures, Elizabeth Thompson, Carolyn Cuddihy, and Diane Dearing perform "The Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy of Company B."

Kathy Wells serenades Will "Honeybun" Harper with South Pacific tunes.

Exchange students find Americans friendly

This year's foreign exchange students were Asa Nilsson from Sweden, Doris Weber from Germany, and Philippe Clabé from France. All three students agreed that the people and the customs differed from those of their own countries.

Asa Nilsson, Doris Weber

"Everybody is very nice and friendly here," stated both Asa and Doris. But Philippe felt that the United States is still much too young to objectively compare American customs to those of his native France.

Philippe, Doris, and Asa found that the school life at Camelback varied a great deal from those in their homelands.

"One thing I found useful in the American school system were the counselors," commented Philippe.

Five seniors spend 2 months touring Europe

Belly dancing was most interesting to Karen Roseberry who spent two months in Turkey this summer. Karen found the country full of tradition and vitality. "I can't think of a better way to see a country than through its people," stated Karen.

Rebild Camp, a camp for Danish and American students, provided an interesting experience for Laurie Schmich during her two month stay in Denmark.

Camping on islands in the Oslo Fjord and cherry-picking occupied much of Lori Wang's time in Norway. "Doing things with my family made my trip so special," quoted Lori.

German festivals, touring neighboring countries, and hiking trips characterized Bonnie Rogers' and Caryl Hickey's two month stay in Germany. Caryl and Bonnie found the places and people interesting.

Cheerleaders boost spirit with posters, gifts

Making posters and gifts to boost the football and basketball team's morale before games was one of the Cheer line's activities.

The girls performed in assemblies and banquets, held the Varsity Cheer tryouts, and sold greeting cards for uniforms.

Before the Cheer tryouts, held in May, the line members taught all interested girls a routine which was performed in front of 15 judges.

Flag line performs with Band at Band Day; Music Festival

To achieve their standard of perfection, the girls in the Flag line practiced at least eight hours a week, in which they worked out 15 new dance routines to such songs as Sweet Georgia Brown and the school fight song.

They performed in the ASU Band Day, Football and Cross Country banquets, and in various assemblies.

They also sold greeting cards to earn money for uniforms and to travel with the band to Colorado.

At the end of the year, they held their annual Flag clinic where they showed girls interested in Flag the different basic routines.

CAC debates open-closed campus controversy

Citizens Advisory Committee's purpose was to promote the feelings, stands, and viewpoints of the Student body concerning a variety of issues. Issues range from an open-closed campus to the bond election and eating in class.

Members of the Student Board of Education acted as an advisory council to the Board of Education. They presented the student's viewpoint on new and existing policies.

Mayor's Youth Advisory Board was designed to give high school students a chance to communicate with City government. The accomplishments this year included reorganizing themselves.

UN delegates discuss international problems

Seven students from Camelback High school displayed their talents on April 18th and 19th at the Annual Arizona All State. As members of the All State Band Orchestra, Janet Grove, Lynn Davis, Cindy Geiger, Trudy Strand, Ray Kilday, Cindy Rose, and Todd Decker managed to pass some very demanding and difficult performance auditions. Three students were selected from among the hundreds of qualified students across Arizona through a series of auditions on both the local, regional, and State levels. After having been selected to perform in the All Region organizations, they had to once again compete for the All-State spots.

All State was held in Flagstaff this year and featured three of the finest nationally recognized conductors possible.

The main purpose for the All State music organization was the same as in All State in any other area — recognize ability. Another purpose was to promote quality music on the high school level.

All State represented the highest musical achievement an individual student can attain during his high school career.

In an effort to understand the procedures and functions of the United Nations and the current international problems, the Model United Nations delegates met in Tucson on January 31 and February 1. Camelback students represented the countries of Qatar and Byelorussia SSR.

“Utilizing our knowledge of the nation’s political and foreign interests as well as the charter and rules of the United Nations was the major goals of the Model U.N.,” stated David Woo.

Delegates Nancy Tribbensee and Nancy Clark stated, “The experience was one of totality. You had to immerse yourself into your country’s foreign policies and feelings, we felt the problems of the world.”

Girls' Staters take mayor, council positions

Girl's State gave junior girls an opportunity to observe and learn about how a government is run by letting them run it themselves.

The delegates and their offices were: Sandy Van Kilsdonk — city council; Barbie Gercke — city council; Sue Malinski — mayor; Chris Wiersen — mayor.

"What I got out of it was a good appreciation for all the work that goes into running a city. I really learned a lot," stated Chris Wiersen.

Anytown provides chance to find oneself

Anytown, a part of the Inter-High School Brotherhood council, was held in Prescott and provided students with a chance to meet and get to know others from all over Arizona.

Its theme this year was "Who am I?" The kids and the counselors got into discussion groups to talk about problems in all areas of life and figure out methods of finding out who they were. To supplement the discussions were hillside and nighttime circle sings, nature hikes, morning yoga, and much more.

"I did find out who I was," stated Junior David Woo, "Anytown was a personal revelation which changed my vision of society and myself. It was a phantasmogorical experience and one of the most important events in my life."

'Camelback's Country Fair' serves as Homecoming theme

Using "Grass Roots America" as a basis, the Homecoming Committee chose "Camelback's Country Fair" as this year's theme.

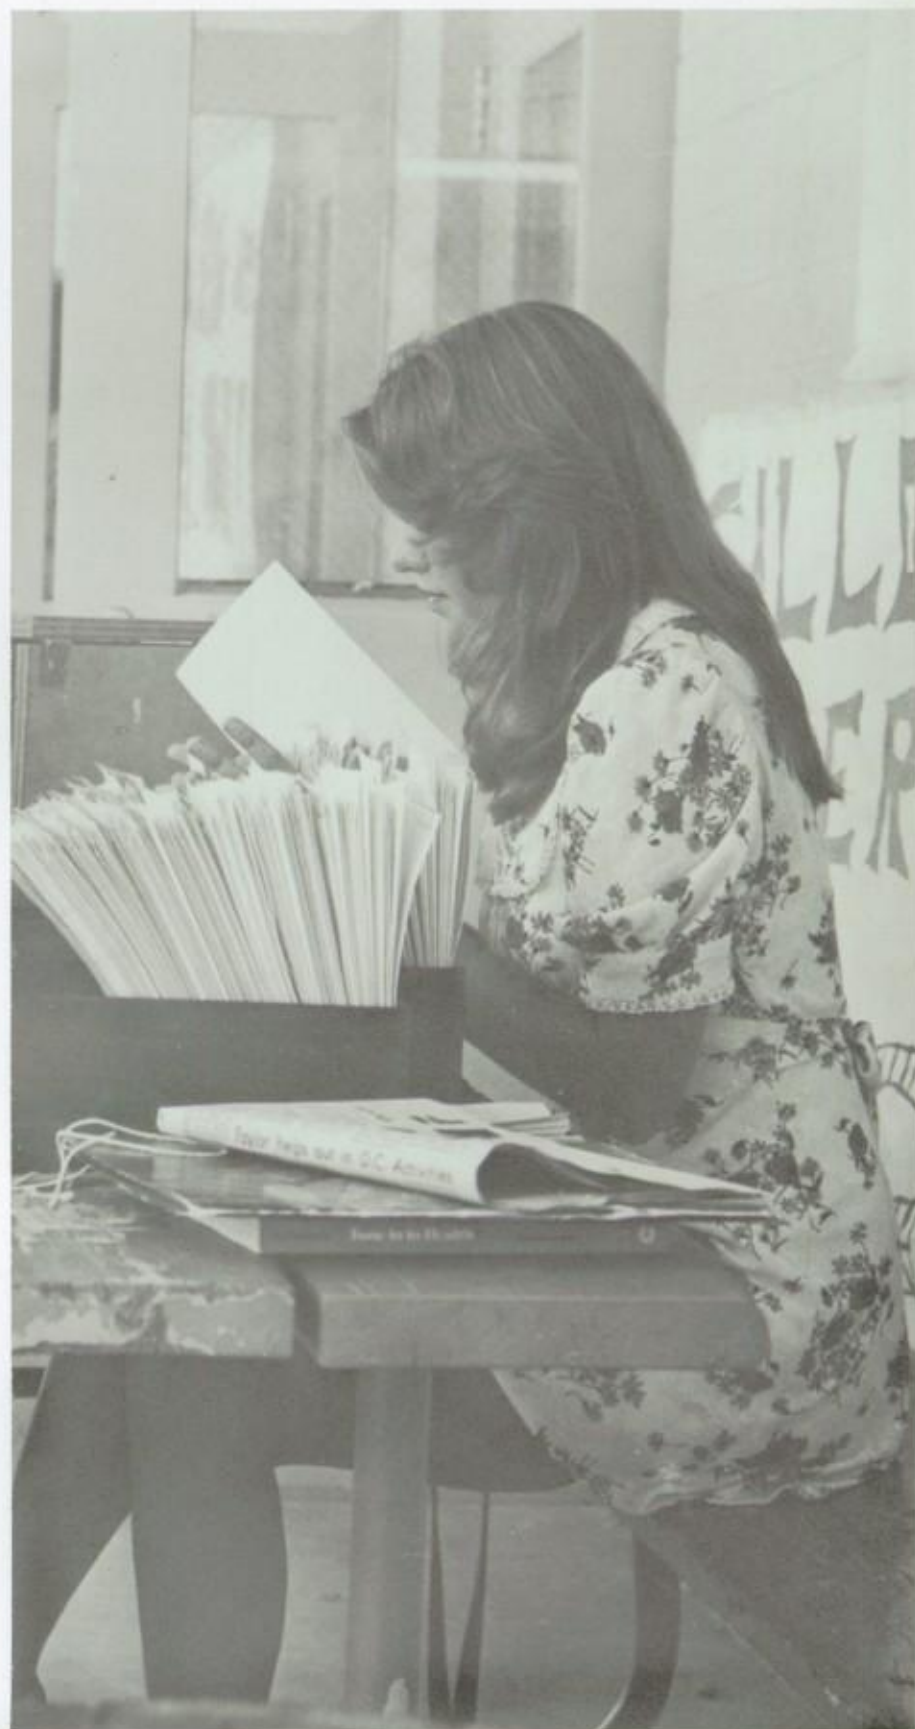

Three legged races, embroidery and baking competitions, a boxed lunch auction, pie eating contest and sweetheart booth were a few of the activities that students participated in during lunches.

The candidates for Homecoming

King and Queen were: Randy Palmer, Barbara Gercke, Roger Overton, Sue Spaulding, Debbie Keyes, Mark Degrow, Mark Whipple and Sandi Van Kilsdonk.

To conclude an eventful week, Spartans watched as Pom Line member Barbara Gercke and Varsity Football player Randy Palmer began their reign as Homecoming royalty for 1974-1975.

Choir presents winter benefit for scholarships

Ranking a superior rating at the Arizona State Marching Festival, the Concert Marching Band continued in its role as one of the best bands in Arizona.

The Band financed a trip to Colorado for the Western Slope Music Festival by selling candy, message boards, and holding car washes and benefit concerts. The group also entered the Mountain States Music Festival at ASU.

A regular activity of the Marching Band was performing at all football games and exchanging concerts with local high schools.

Waving palms, balmy seas and south seas islands were recreated by the Concert Choir in their first winter production.

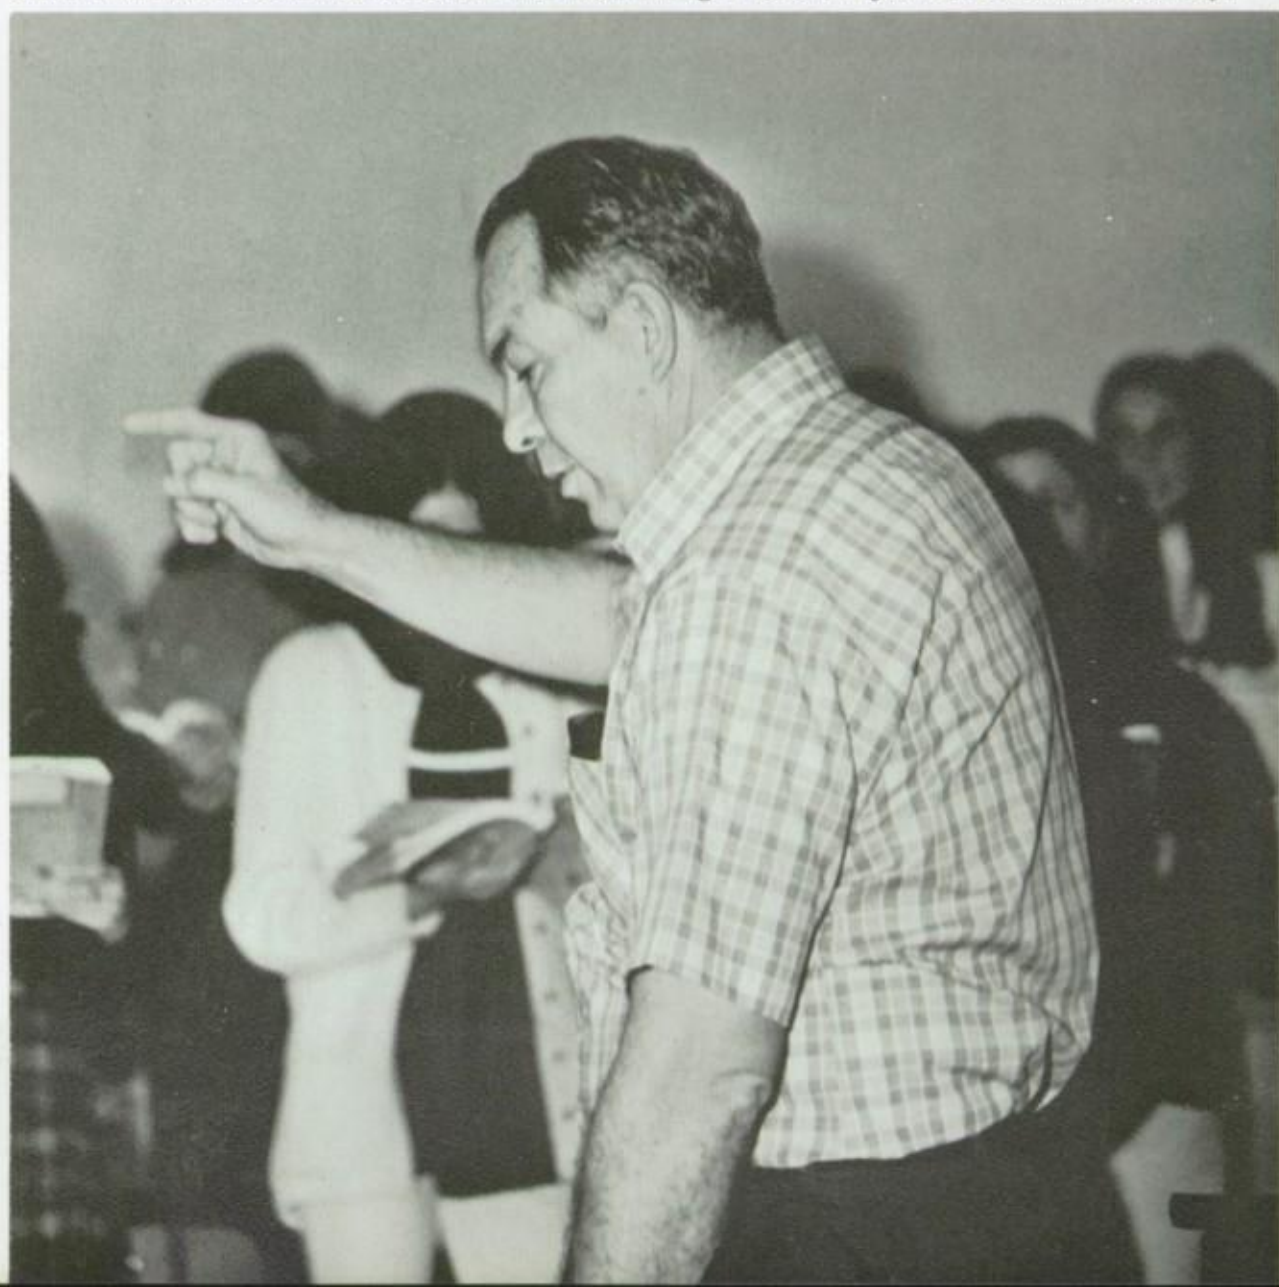

Performances of "Scenes from 'South Pacific'" ran February 11, 12 and 13, and proceeds from the concert went toward music camp scholarships.

In addition to the winter and spring productions, the Choir participated in the Parent Night Concert and the PMA Spaghetti Dinner, and gave Christmas performances at Metrocenter and Squaw Peak Elementary School.

Funds from Orchestra sales finance trip to music festival

By selling message boards and Beandy, the Orchestra raised funds to accompany the Concert Band to Colorado for the Western Slope Music Festival in April.

The Orchestra performed The Messiah for the annual Christmas Concert.

New director, Mr. William Sylvester took charge of a smaller group than in the past years. The Orchestra experienced a drastic reduction in membership, falling from approximately 34 members last year to about 13 this year.

Jazz Laboratory, a musical group meeting seventh hour, performed at various functions including the PMA Spaghetti Dinner and a spring concert in April.

In addition to CHS activities, Jazz Lab gave a concert at Squaw Peak Elementary School and traveled to Flagstaff in February.

For the purpose of offering constructive criticism, a special representative from Otto Stein brought new music to the class and sometimes conducted the group.

Girls' Chorus brings Xmas spirit to hospitals

Advanced Girls' Chorus entertained hospital patients during the Christmas season by giving concerts at Good Samaritan, St. Joseph's and the Arizona State Hospitals.

The Chorus group performed at the PMA Spaghetti Dinner and joined the Orchestra for a spring concert in April.

Fund raising activities included the selling of flower arrangements and Wisconsin cheese.

Camelback Singers, performing as a separate group from Concert Choir, gave Christmas concerts at the state capitol, Thomas Mall and the Optimists Luncheon.

Composed of the best voices in the Choir, the Singers also sang for parents and students at the Parent Night Concert and the CHS Christmas Program.

Under the direction of accompanist Scott Storr, Camelback Singers sing for the NHS Induction.

Orchesis made one big change this year in their dances. No longer did they use an all girl cast. In the Spring Concert, Kevin Bies and Dave Lengyel performed in one of the dances. Other performances were the Guest Concert in March, and the Spring Assembly in May.

Governing the 27 member group was Mrs. Jobski, in her 6th year with the club, and concert chairman Liz Weisel.

The club listened to several guest dance speakers. Orchesis taught the girls dance as an art form. Girls wishing to join Orchesis auditioned at one of the concert practices.

PMA supports music dept. with dinner

Parent Music Association, supported the Music Department with a Spaghetti Dinner in October. The dinner provided money for scholarships to music camps and voice and instrumental lessons. The music students aided in the raising of the money by selling tickets to the dinner.

In May an Ice Cream Social was held which also provided money for scholarships. PMA also provided drinks for the band during football season and refreshments for different concerts presented by the Music Department.

Athletic equipment purchased by Boosters

Assisting in the purchasing of athletic equipment not included in the Camelback High School budget was the purpose of the Sports Boosters. To raise funds throughout the year they held a softball bash, Swop and Shop and sold programs at football games.

Sports Boosters had two new fund raising projects this year: selling programs for basketball games and preparing a food fair before one of the baseball games in April.

Part of the money they raised went to the Girls Golf team and to sponsor buses to the away football games.

Campus Editor Connie Coultrap and Reporter Halle Albrecht listen to second semester Editor-in-chief Nadine Arena's suggestions concerning the ad layout for an issue of the Blade.

Economic dip results in loss of advertising

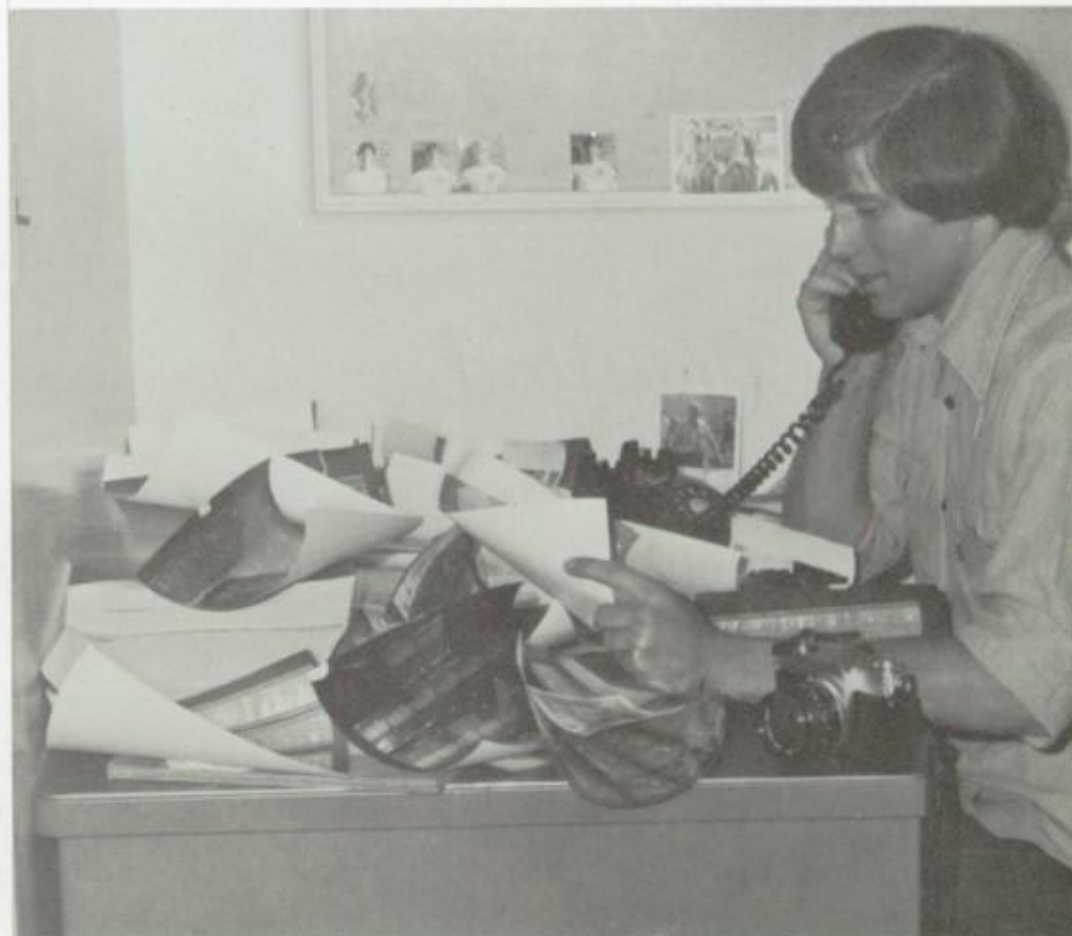

Shortage of advertisers proved to be the source of financial problems experienced by the 1974-75 Blade staff. A result of the money shortage was the printing of less newspapers, which when printed generally ran only four pages to an issue.

One change in the content of the paper was the printing of more on-campus stories rather than those of off-campus activities.

Consisting of mostly sophomores and new staffers, the Blade staff lacked experienced staff members to show the staff ins and outs of putting out a newspaper. "We regarded this year as a rebuilding year in which the staff trained itself in the methods of good journalistic reporting," commented Advisor Ms. Charme Morehart.

Small staff tackles problems concerning 1975 SHIELD

With only ten journalists and four photographers, the Shield staff found putting out the 1975 Shield a challenge.

A big setback caused by the lack of members was the inability to meet the deadline as scheduled by the printer.

The conservative style of the yearbook was carried out this year with no major changes except the addition of a closing section.

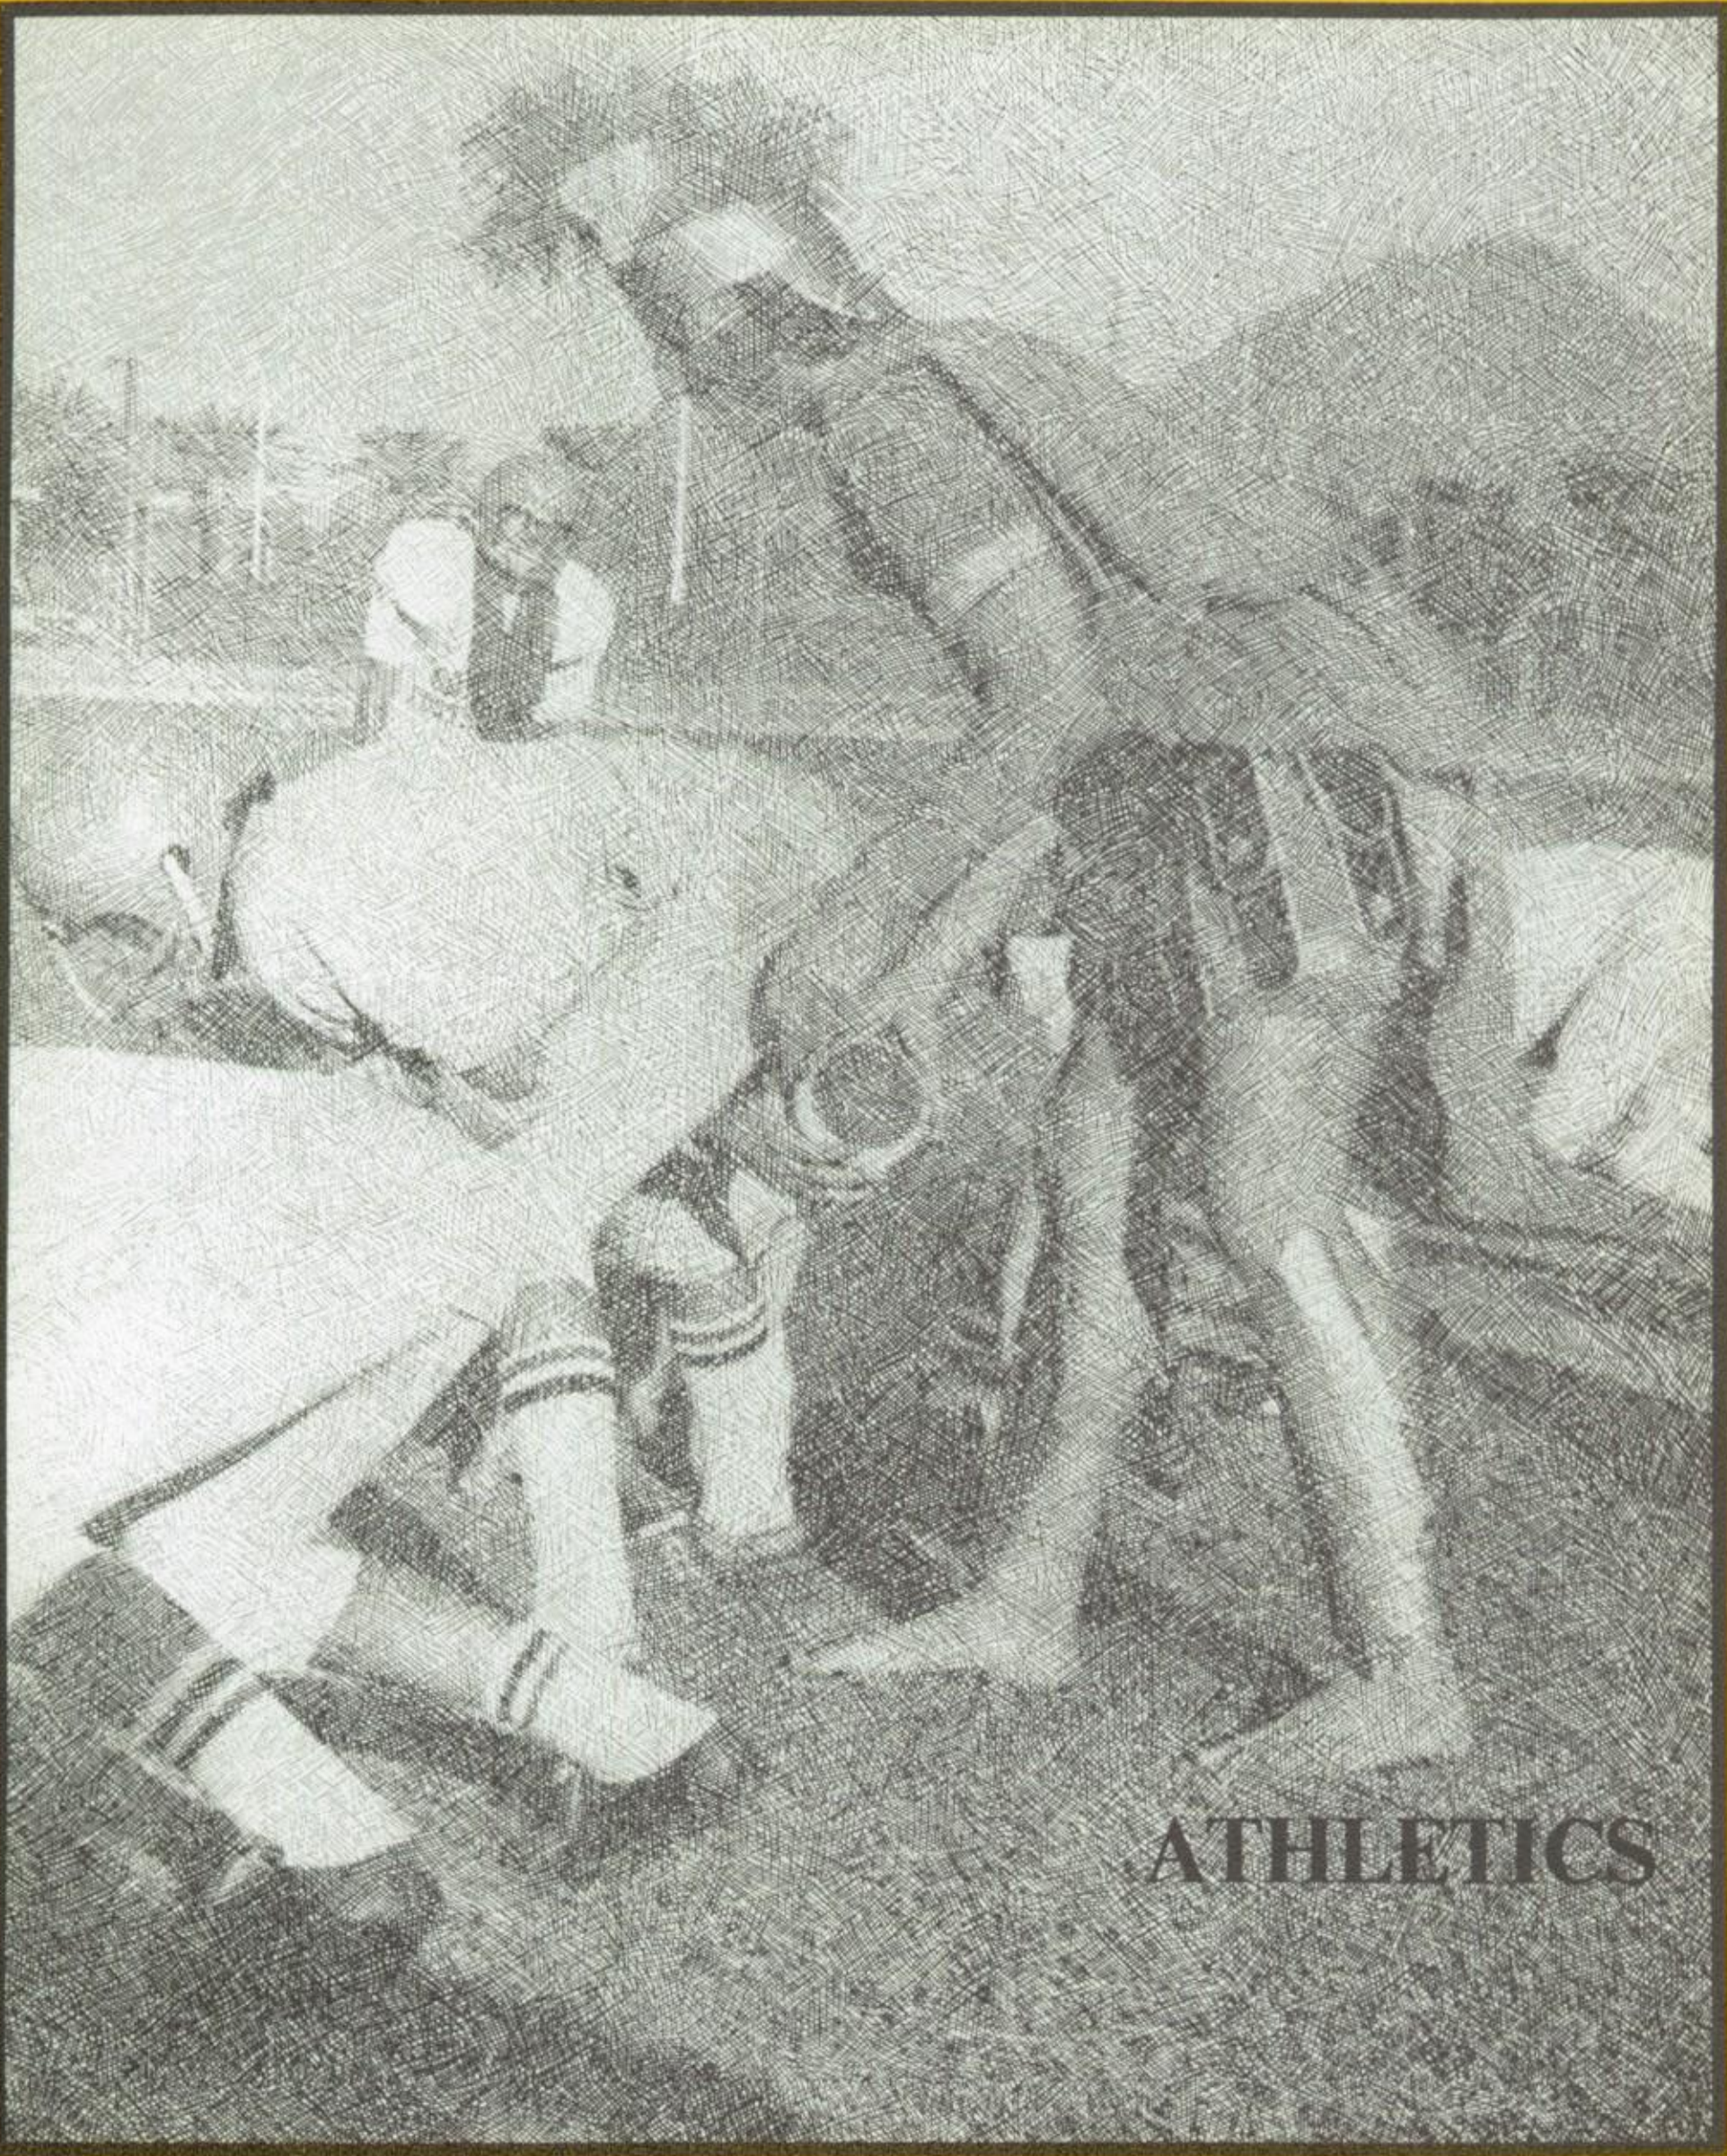

Fatigued by hours of work, Academics Editor Kevin "Obie" O'Brien and Editor-in-Chief Carol "Moo Moo" Hunter proofread galley sheets of Shield copy.

Photographers Kathleen Irwin and Mike Reckards come out of the darkroom to check a print.

Spartans take state

We proved to a lot of people that great size and exceptional talent are not necessary to have a championship team," said Coach Jesse Parker. "Instead, what is needed is the winning attitude that we had." Parker guided the Camelback Spartans to the 1974 AAA State Football Championship after defeating Central, Buena, and St. Mary's in the Divisional, Semi-Final and Final games of the State Championship play-off series.

The most valuable player, as selected by the team, was Mark Whipple. In his role as quarterback, he completed 39 of 90 passes for 959 yards and rushed for 202 yards during 75 carries.

Coach Parker named Ken Holton, Keith McAllister, Butch Vaughn, and Wally Zink as the outstanding offensive linemen. The outstanding defensive linemen were Greg Graulich, Jim Keller, Lavar Merrill, and Butch Vaughn.

Roger Overton, Randy Palmer and Mark Whipple were the outstanding offensive backs; while Stan Burger, Mark DeGrow, Ken Holton and Randy Palmer were the outstanding defensive backs.

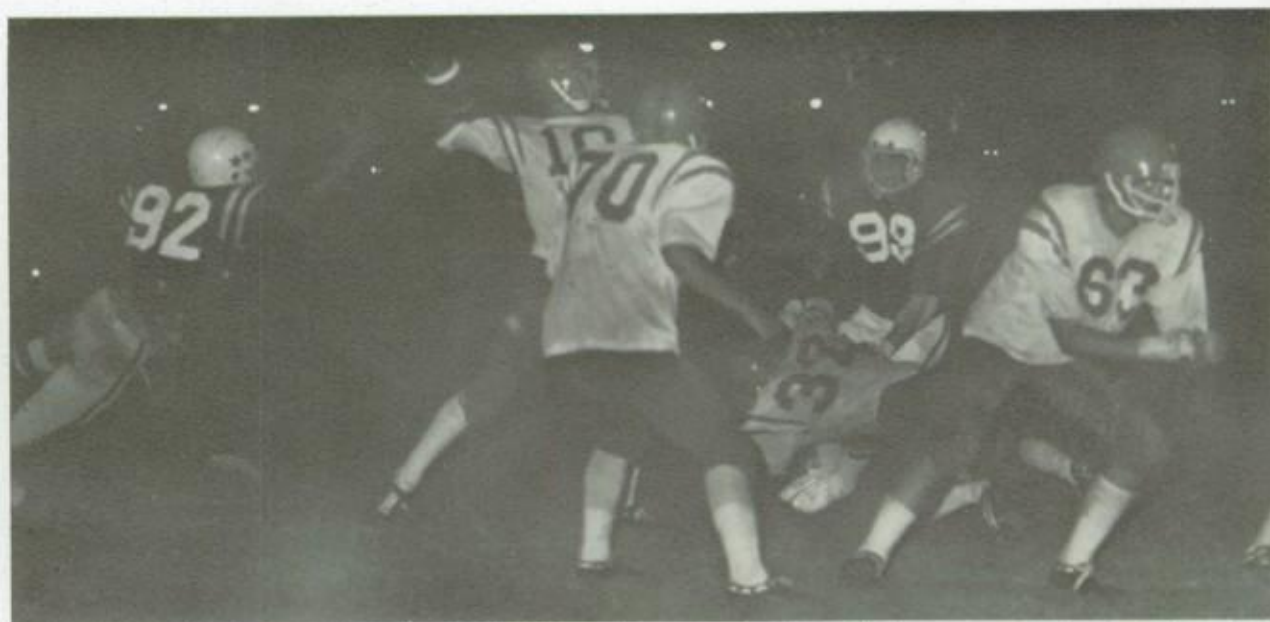

The team boasted an undefeated 11-0-1 record. Parker attributed the only tie of the season, against Maryvale, to many small injuries suffered against Saguaro and poor mental preparation.

Coach Jesse Parker discusses some offensive strategy with Senior Rick Hancock during the game against Phoenix Union.

Senior running back Roger Overton drives up the middle of the Maryvale defense for valuable yardage. Overton carried the ball 137 times during the season, netting 736 yards.

Throwing a long pass downfield, Mark Whipple barely gets the ball off before the Saguaro defense gets to him. The Spartan blockers are Keith McAllister, Jim Keller, and Butch Vaughn.

Camelback triumphs in 22-20 victory in state championship

Camelback won its first AAA football championship ever with a 22-20 victory over the St. Mary's Knights.

Camelback made it to the finals by shutting out Central 8-0 and by defeating Buena 34-21. St. Mary's had beaten Agua Fria and top-ranked Marcos De Niza to qualify for the game.

At the beginning of the game neither team was able to score, but with 19 seconds left in the first quarter Mark DeGrow recovered a St. Mary's fumble on the St. Mary 25 yardline. This set up the pass from Mark Whipple to DeGrow for the touchdown with 9:56 left in the half. The extra point attempt was not good.

St. Mary's came right back and scored, making the extra point attempt.

In the third quarter, Whipple moved the ball from the 24 yard line to the 7 on a fourth down and two to go situation. Two plays later, Jim Keller ran the ball in for the touchdown. A two-point conversion pass to DeGrow made the score 14-7.

At the start of the fourth quarter, St. Mary's scored again. The extra point kick tied the score at 14-14.

With four minutes left in the game, Roger Overton scored again for the Spartans. The first extra point attempt failed but St. Mary's was called offsides so Camelback was able to try again from the 1½ yard line. This time, the Spartans were able to score another two point conversion.

After the kickoff, St. Mary's moved the ball down the field for another touchdown, but their two point conversion failed, leaving the score at 22-20.

J.V. Football team has 7-3 record for season

"Our best game was against Carl Hayden," said J.V. Football Coach Dale O'Dell. "We were down 12 to nothing at half time but we came back to win, 19 to 12."

O'Dell named Jim Desimone as the Most Valuable Player because of his outstanding performance as an offensive and defensive back. Mark Poppe was also cited as outstanding both ways along with Tom Boltz offensively and John Adams defensively.

Kevin Dicks, Don Christian,

Tony Mlazgar, Sid Pfaff, and Sam Schneider were named the Outstanding Offensive Linemen. Bob Boich and Jim Ogsbury were the Outstanding Defensive Linemen.

When asked about new strategies, O'Dell replied, "Winning." This is a reflection on the team's 7-3 record for the season. The team's defense gave up only 900 yards while the offense gained 2,400 yards.

"The best game of the year for the team was against Maryvale." Coach Kellen of the Freshman Regular team further explained, "We were the only team to defeat Maryvale in the last two years. It was the best team effort of the year."

The team started slow, but ended the season shutting out five teams. Camelback scored a total of 144 points while holding their opponents to only 48.

"In this level of football, we have two basic objectives: to stress proper fundamentals and to develop a love for the game," said Frosh Lightweight Football Coach Wertz. "Whether or not these objectives will be accomplished will depend on the player's attitudes and participation for the next three years." The lightweight team had a 3-4-1 record for the season.

New coach joins Camelback; Dave Kalfas leading scorer

Dave Kalfas, the varsity's leading rebounder with 97 offensive and 135 defensive and the teams leading scorer with 108 points was one of only three returning lettermen. The varsity squad also had a new coach, Mr. Lothar Goernitz.

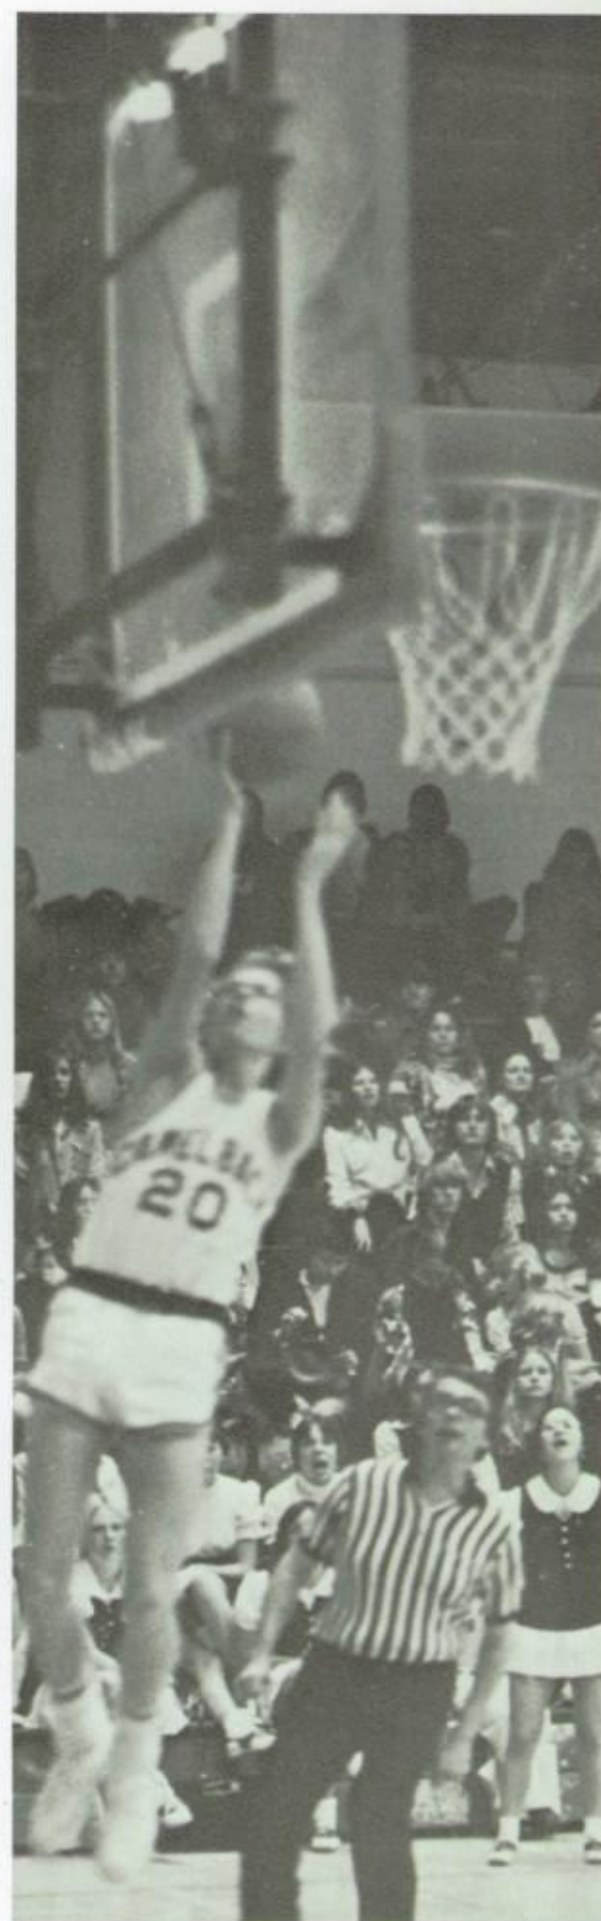

The team had several very close games with only one point making the difference. Coach Goernitz said, "We played much better basketball during the second half of the season and we accomplished many things that we set out to do."

Although school apathy was a problem, Coach Goernitz said, "I felt the overall school spirit at times during the year was excellent. I know when you win, this will improve and we plan on winning from here on."

He was undefeated in two regular season matches.

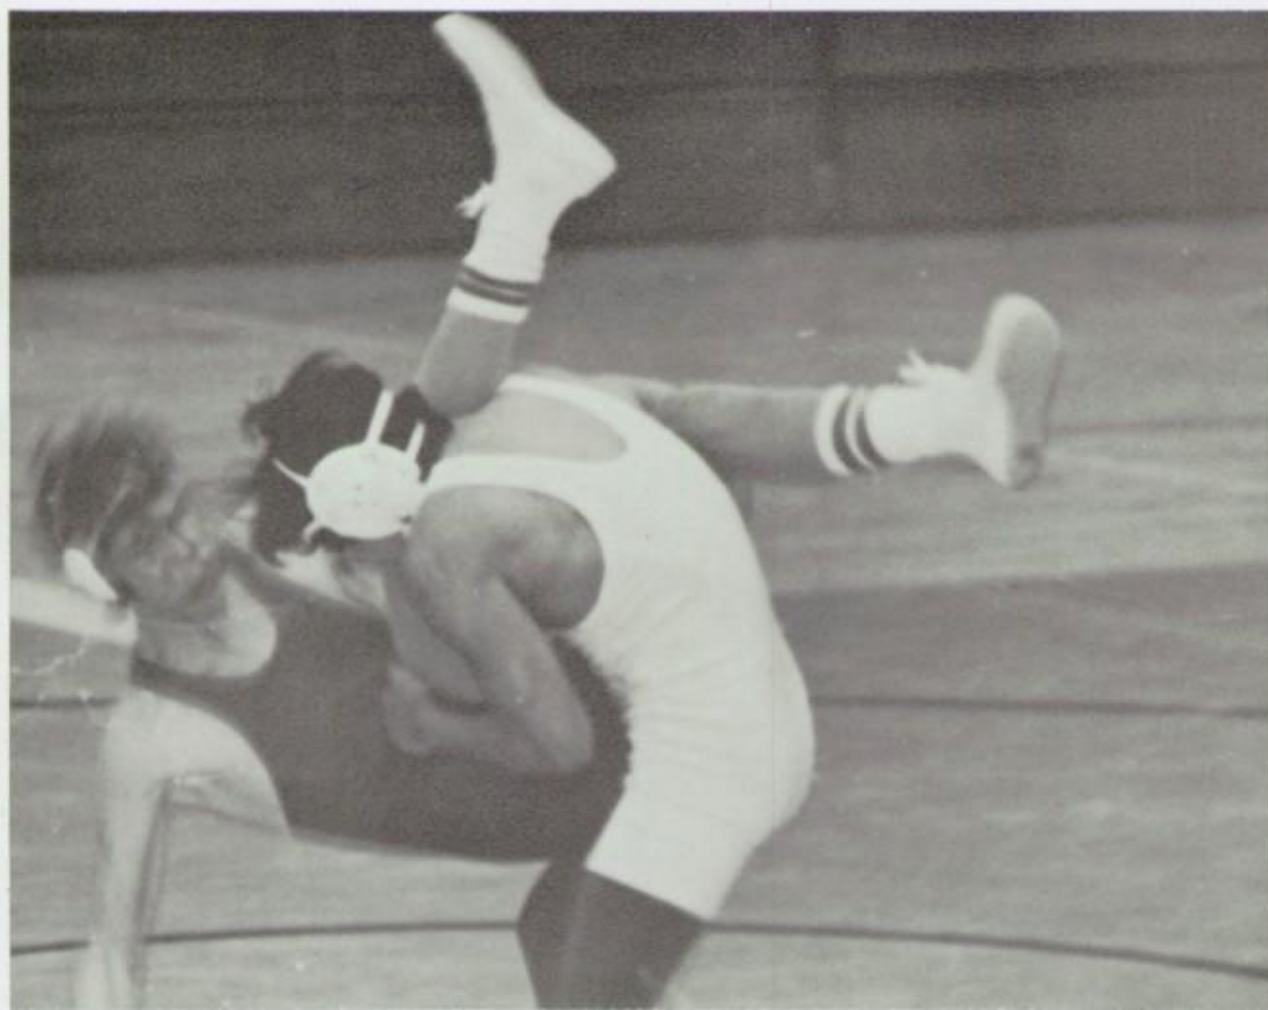

Jim Leuenberger was named the most improved wrestler. Leu-

Sophomore Ray Langdon was the most improved runner on the team. Schoenborn commented, "He was able to keep up time-wise and he had good endurance." Langdon ran in all but two varsity races.

Schoenborn said that the best meet was against West. When asked why, he stated, "Because we killed them." The score at the meet was Camelback, West

JV Girl netters reduced for individual training

In order to give players more individual coaching so that they could improve their game, the size of the Girls' Junior Varsity Tennis team was reduced. This also helped to permit almost every girl on the team an opportunity to play in each match.

A weakness of the squad was the lack of competitiveness among the players at the start of the season. However, this was solved by experience and more training.

In the Junior Varsity match against Tolleson High School, Camelback won eight of the nine games.

Varsity badminton team earns state AAA championship title

Due to the combined efforts of the Championship Doubles team, Cindy Doyle and Jeri Christian, and the valiant efforts of the 4th place single entry, Paula Ohab, Camelback acquired enough team points to be crowned the Arizona AAA State Badminton Champions for 1975.

"The girls were very receptive to coaching strategies, and they were willing to work on their endurance," commented Coach Janet Shaler.

Throughout the season, Barb Long, Sharon Brandt, and Paula Ohab fought for the number one position, proving their depth of skill, and competitiveness with the team.

JV Badminton undefeated, all but one game is shutout

Coach Janet Shaler named J.V. player Annette Pennington as the Most Valuable Player on the J.V. Badminton team. Traci Pelonari was named as the Most Improved for the team.

Shaler said that the team's most challenging match was against Maryvale. Camelback scored 8 points to Maryvale's 3. It was the only time during the season that the opposing team was able to score any points at all. All the other matches were shutouts, which enabled the Spartans to boast a undefeated, untied, perfect record for the season.

Shaler commented, "The Junior Varsity Badminton Team showed great promise for future varsity members. The overall season record was the best in years."

Stephenson, Sup named as outstanding, improved spikers

Penney Stephenson was named the most outstanding player on the varsity team. Coach Fondrk stated, "She had excellent skill, she worked well with the other team members, she showed good sportsmanship and kept the team's morale up."

"The most improved player was Carol Sup, because she worked hard and never gave up. She started on the J.V. team and by the end of the season she was playing Varsity," said Coach Fondrk.

The match against Alhambra was cited as the outstanding game. Although the team lost, Fondrk said the girls played very well and didn't lose by much.

The Volleyball Team practiced everyday for 2 hours. The practices began with warmups, then drills, and ended with scrimmages.

Fondrk commented on the year, "It wasn't a winning season but the team learned through experience and hopes to do better next year."

Archers named United States team champions

Eight CHS archers competed in the 90th Annual National Archery Championships held in Ohio during August of 1974.

Carole Cheuvront, Patti Iske, Becky Perry, Chris Pugh, Debbie Thompson, Sandi Van Kilsdonk, Jocelyn Wendorf, and Jaine Wendorf entered the Intermediate Girls Division and were victorious.

Carole, Sandi, Patti, and Becky won gold medals for earning the U.S.A. Intermediate Girls Team Championship record. Breaking their own team championship title, the girls surpassed the number 1 U.S. women's team score.

After successfully shooting in the International Round, Carole, Sandi, and Becky qualified to enter the World Championship tryout held in the spring of 1975.

Placing 1st in the U.S. Intermediate Clout Championship was Patti Iske, followed by Sandi Van Kilsdonk in 3rd, Jocelyn Wendorf 4th, Carole Cheuvront 5th, Jaine Wendorf 6th, Chris Pugh 7th, Becky Perry 9th, and Debbie Thompson 12th.

Sandi, Carole, Becky, Debbie, and Joceyln placed 2nd through 6th respectively, in the Individual Intermediate Championship Tournament. Also placing were: Jaine Wendorf 8th, and Chris Pugh 17th.

Carole Cheuvront set a new record at 60 yards, and Debbie Thompson at 50 yards in the 900 Round. Of the 10 medals available to the girls, they won 8.

Commenting on the girls' performance at the tournament, Coach Gretchen James exclaimed, "What an extreme thrill to see these young ladies accomplish so much in so little time! Their talents seem to know no barriers."

Posing with their gold medals at a banquet following the tournament are Carole Cheuvront, Becky Perry, Patti Iske, and Sandi Van Kilsdonk.

CHS archery squad defeats all; take state

For the seventh consecutive year, the CHS Varsity Archery Team won the Arizona State Championship for 1974.

Co-hosting the tournament with Alhambra, the girls set a new Team Championship record, in addition to many individual ones. Sandi Van Kilsdonk set a new Double Collegiate 600 record, and a new Single Collegiate record was set by Carole Cheuvront.

For the second year in a row, Sandi Van Kilsdonk placed first individually, followed by Carole Cheuvront, four points behind in second place. Jocelyn Wendorf and Patti Iske placed fourth and seventh, respectively.

Annette Demos won first place in the Wand Tournament, followed by Sandi Van Kilsdonk in second.

Webb praises varsity baseball's quickness; looks for comeback

Coach Charlie Webb said that his varsity baseball team should be "better off" at the midpoint of the season. The team started very slowly, losing four of its first six games, but then came back to win three straight to establish a 5-4 record with some fifteen league games to go.

Webb attributed the team's slow trouble to inexperience and pressure on the pitching staff.

Fourteen of the players are new to the team, the only veterans being pitchers Rick Hancock and Mark Whipple. Outfielder Lavar Merrill played his first season with any baseball team at CHS.

Webb complimented two left-handed hitters, Mike Hook and Curt Rapp, for their abilities. He also recognized Tommy Allen and Steve Dierker for their hitting consistency.

Webb cited an "exceptionally speedy" outfield comprised of Lavar Merrill, Randy Rhubottom and Jeff Riddle.

Slow start of season hinders Junior Varsity baseball team

Beginning the season with a slow start, the Junior Varsity Baseball Team ended the year with a relatively good record.

Sam Schneider, Mike Dillon, and Mike Dunn had the highest batting averages on the team, which consisted of fifteen sophomores and three juniors. Coach Jim Foster cited Sam Schneider, catcher on the team, as the most improved player of the season.

Foster, who has coached baseball at Camelback for two consecutive years, noted the game against Maryvale as an outstanding one.

Commenting on the season as a whole, Foster said, "after losing the first two games, the guys settled down and really started playing ball."

Outfielder Randy Rhubottom slides past the Maryvale catcher to score a run during the first game of the season which CHS won.

Coach Jim Foster has a conference on the mound with pitcher Craig Nelson about the next batter.

Kevin McGinnis breaks CHS high jump record at track meet

Senior Kevin McGinnis broke the school high jump record by jumping 6'5½" at a meet. Coach Mike Loughran said, "Kevin is probably one of the top four high-jumpers in the state. He is also the team's leading scorer."

"Greg Brady, a sophomore, ran the mile run in 4 minutes and 28 seconds," said Coach Loughran, "so he is probably the fastest sophomore at Camelback."

Goernitz takes over as new frosh coach

Starting out the year with a new coach, the freshman track team lost their first two meets, but came back in the third with a strong victory.

Although it was a team effort, there were many outstanding players. In shot put, Spencer Lane stood out. Bert Katz was best at discus. Carl Olsen was one of the most improved members of the team, excelling at the 880. Jeff Owen was excellent at the high jump. Girls' track team begins at CHS; Schoenborn coaches Girls have never had their own track team before at Camelback—until this year. Hans Schoenborn, experienced through having been a track coach three years before, became their coach and they set to work.

Coach Schoenborn commented on their progress, "Everybody has improved in their own events because they try hard and want to win."

However, out of the entire team, Clare Sup and Nancy Kowacz stood out: Sup, in the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, the 440 relay; Kowacz in the discus, mile and the 880. According to Schoenborn this is because they have team spirit, and are willing to work hard.

Bourgeois praises swim team as best ever

This is the best team I've ever had," said swimming coach O'Jay Bourgeois. He predicted that the team would finish the season as the city champions, the division champions and fourth in the state.

Bourgeois cited swimmers Bucky Metzger and Jess Lester as the outstanding watermen on the squad. Bourgeois said that both made a great contribution to the team.

Tom Fanara was the Most Improved swimmer on the team. Fanara, a freshman, is expected by Coach Bourgeois to be very promising in the next few years.

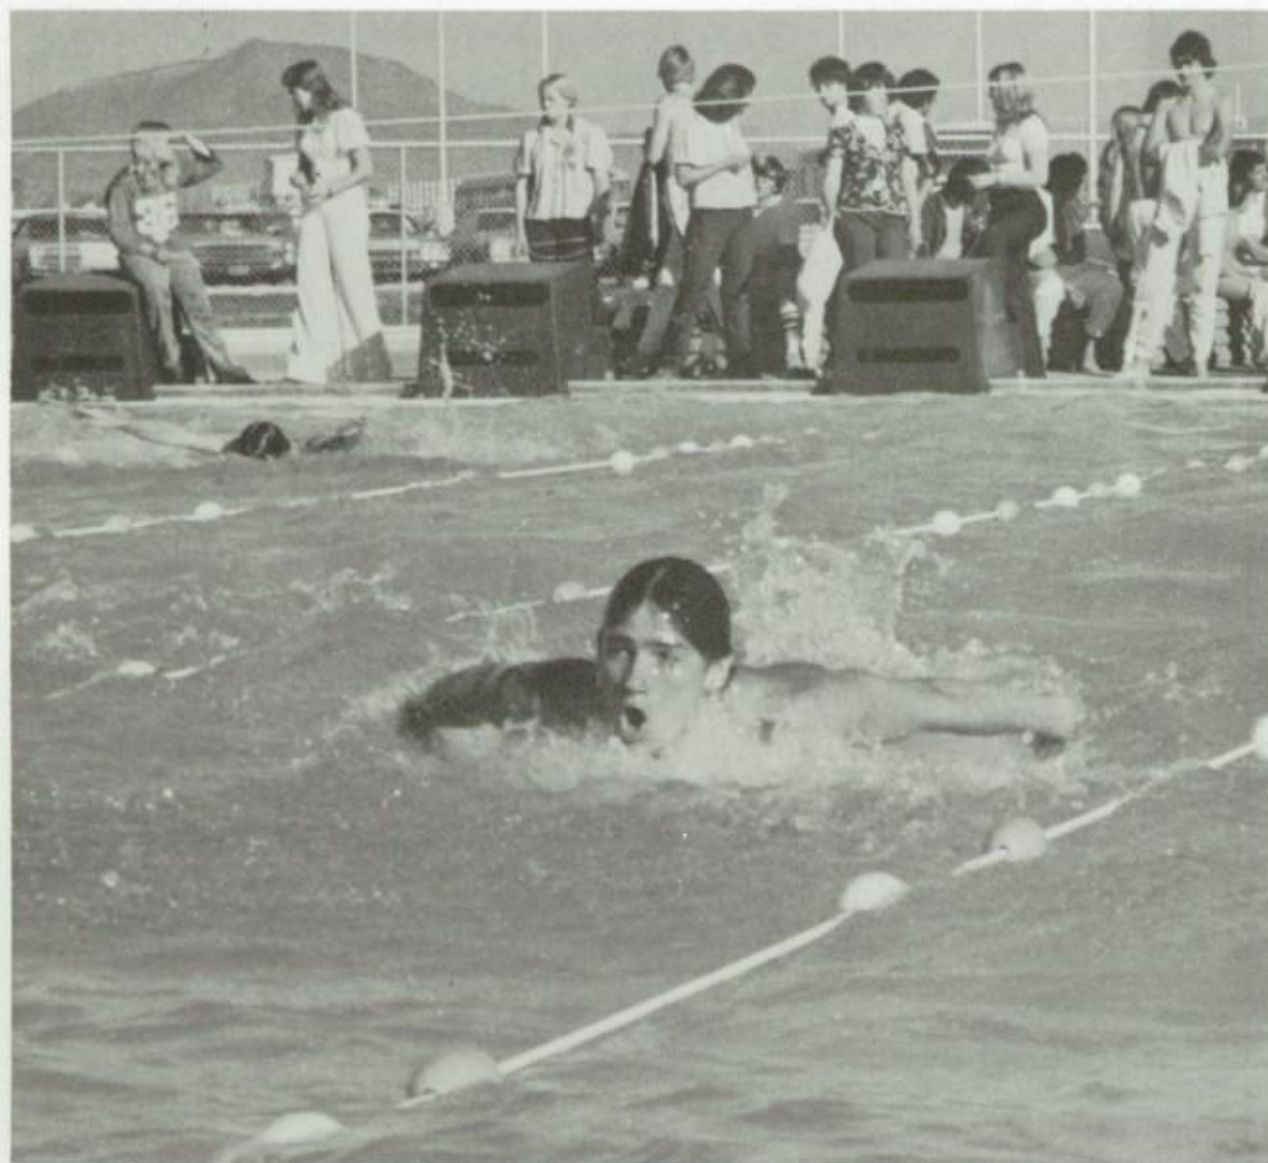

Todd Savitt and Jim Burke were the divers for the team. They competed in forward, backward, inward, reverse, and twist dives.

Led by team captains Wally Zink, and Curt Johnson, the team swam the freestyle, backstroke, butterfly, and breaststrokes.

The team practiced 70 minutes a day, five days a week, at the Dick Smith Swim-Gym. Home meets were held at West High School.

Four exercises make up routine for gymnasts

Four different exercises were participated in by members of the Girl's Gymnastics Team. The exercises were the balance beam, the uneven parallel bars, vaulting, and floor exercises. Each girl did intermediate compulsory routines with some girls going on to advanced routines. Next year the girls will be able to do optional routines.

There are no all-around standouts for the team. Instead there are standouts in each specialty. Liz Mathews, Christie Yonkers, and Shannon Peppner were noted for their excellence on the parallel bars. For vaulting, Sally Sanford, Leslie Hall, and Shelly Leonard were cited. The outstanding balance beam girls were Lisa Bierer, Karen Grant, and Jill Eрман. The best in the floor exercises were performed by Patti Johnson, Julie Orr, and Susie Jess.

ORGANIZATIONS

Senate amends constitution; supports Bond Election

Student Senate's purpose was to provide for student interaction, a go between for the Administration and students, a voice for student concerns, and financial backing for needed functions. "I feel that we are fulfilling our purpose," stated Tod Norman, President of Student Senate.

During the year Student Senate has combined their help with other organizations in the opposition of Proposition 102 and in support of the Bond election for the Multipurpose Learning Facility. They have also supported clubs in need of financial help, and financing programs deemed acceptable.

The Senate also amended Section 2, Article 8 so that Senators would be elected every semester instead of once a year.

Sponsoring a blood drive and a Christmas party for the mentally handicapped were among the activities held by Interact this year.

The club started four years ago as a needed coed service club. "The club has had excellent student leadership in the past who have been willing to give more of their time than most students are willing to give," said sponsor Mr. Bob Beckett.

The only requirement for membership in Interact is the willingness to give of oneself for the service of the community.

Spanish Honor Society takes trip to Mexico

Nogales was the site of a field trip for Spanish National Honor Society and also the highlight of the year. The trip entailed going to Nogales by way of two missions: San Xavier del Bac and Tumacacori, then spending the day in Nogales and returning that afternoon.

Honoring academic excellence and fostering a certain camaraderie in the enjoyment of the many aspects of the French Culture is the purpose of the French National Honor Society, stated Miss Andre DeLisle, sponsor of the honor society.

More activities; only change in Dorian's past

Helping the needy, emotional, and underprivileged people were goals of Dorian. These types of activities filled the year as Dorian members participated in selling mums for Homecoming, helping fix lunchroom chairs and, for the first time, adopting a family for Christmas. They also had parties for themselves and for others with Key Club, gave a fashion show for underprivileged children, sponsored a Korean dancer and ran a booth at Gompers Carnival. The club is open for membership to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

International takes tour of art collection

We aimed for a larger membership along with more interest in international customs and lifestyles. We tried to involve more language departments and other interested students," explained Betsy Aidem, president of International Club.

In October, Harris Golden, the Smiling Gourmet, gave a demonstration of the preparation of chow mein and gran marnier soufflé.

"We are introducing other cultures to our members and hope that they, in turn, will develop a true understanding for these cultures," stated Ms. Kathryn Oates, club sponsor. This has been accomplished through a tour of the Phoenix Art Museum.

International Club sponsored a Christmas party in December and a Nogales bus trip.

Masque & Gavel parent organization formed

Masque and Gavel produced not only two plays this year, but two changes as well. They extended the productions of the plays to five nights, instead of the customary four. As an aid to the large 120 member club, a parents group was formed, the Masque and Gavel Patrons.

A speech tournament was also located at Camelback and Masque and Gavel helped with this.

As a social aspect of the club, a Christmas party took place on December 18, and an awards banquet.

Enjoying trips; skiing, goals of Ski Club

Having fun and going skiing were two of the purposes of the Camelback Ski Club. Trips for skiing included going to Purgatory in December and Sunrise in January.

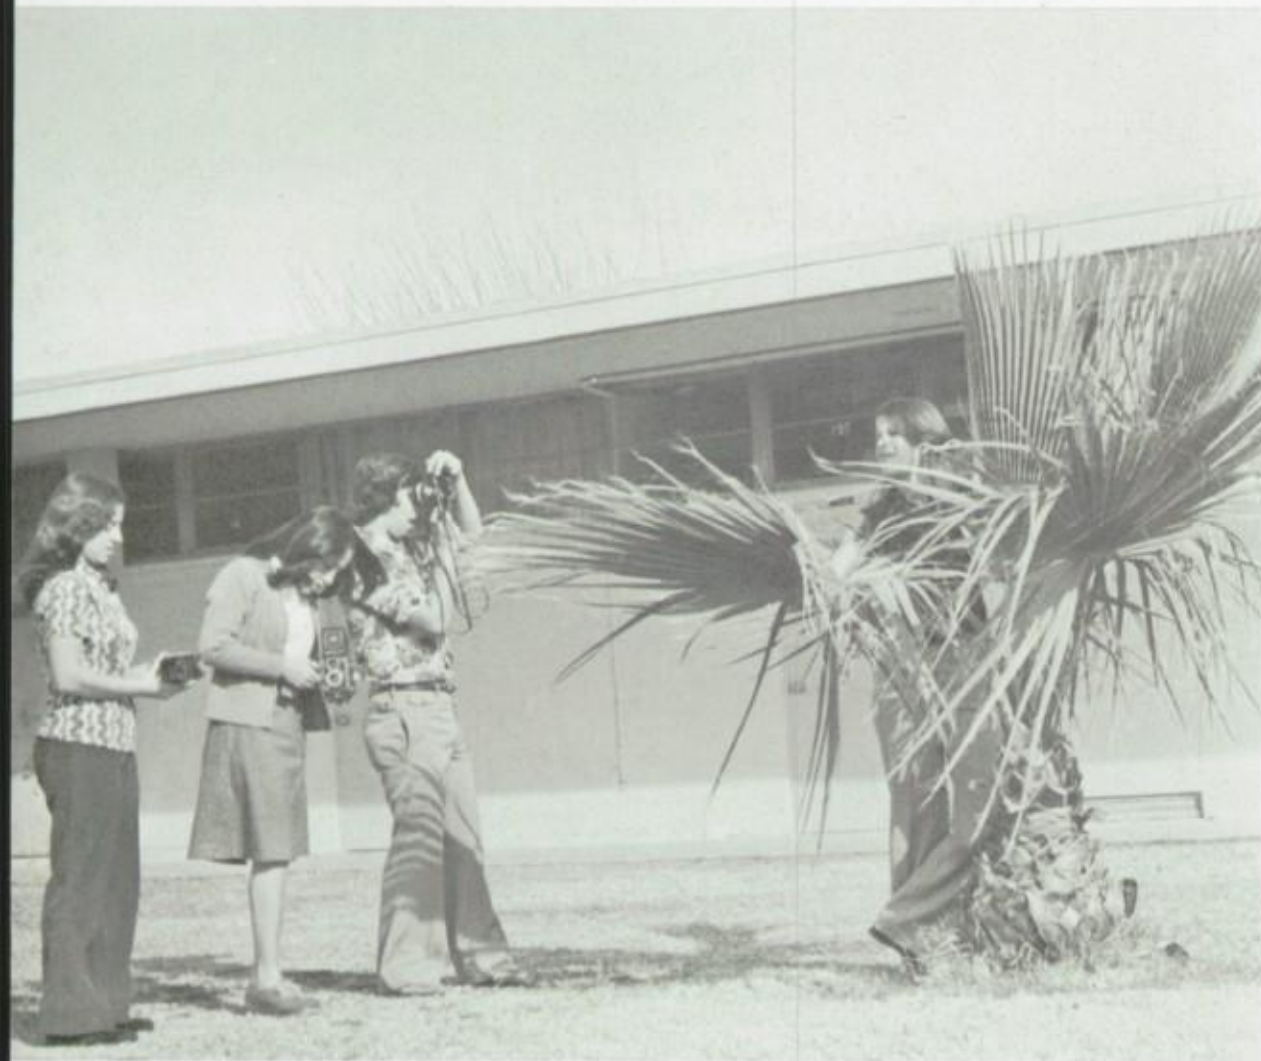

"The trips were great although we had to be in by 10 p.m.," said Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Boich. "The skiing was good but the night life was terrible."

One purpose of the Ski Club is to teach safety while skiing. Few people were hurt on the trips and the only serious injury occurred when Robin Brummer fell off the ski lift at Purgatory.

Controversy sparks creation of Photo Club

Keeping club members informed of upcoming photo contests and raising money by selling CHS decals were some of the projects of the Photo Club.

The money was used to purchase equipment and supplies for developing color film and prints. This was previously impossible because of the lack of a hot water heater.

The club had 59 members by the first two weeks of its existence and was open to anyone who had completed one semester of photography.

Girls in GAA add volleyball, track activities

Two new activities, a track team and a volleyball team added more fun to the Girls Athletic Association this year. Other activities included a movie, an annual picnic, a bike hike to Squaw Peak, scooter races, and a slumber party.

The idea of GAA was to promote a widespread interest in girls athletics and to foster a spirit of good sportsmanship. When not eligible for a team, girls in GAA were able to enjoy sports in a fun atmosphere.

Forensics now affiliated with national league

Becoming affiliated with the National Forensics League this year, the Forensics team was qualified to compete nationally.

Earlier in the year they took Winter Trophy at Westwood High School with the closest opponent trailing fifty points behind. This type of success carried through the entire year.

The debate team has, under the coaching of Mary Stites, added four more teams and many more successes to their record.

Members of the Forensic team also competed successfully in such speech contests as Rotary, Optimist, Gemco, and Lucky.

Several team members attributed their success to the coaching received from Mr. Harvey, Ms. Sanden, Ms. Stites, and Ms. Steele.

Concentration, logic developed through Bridge

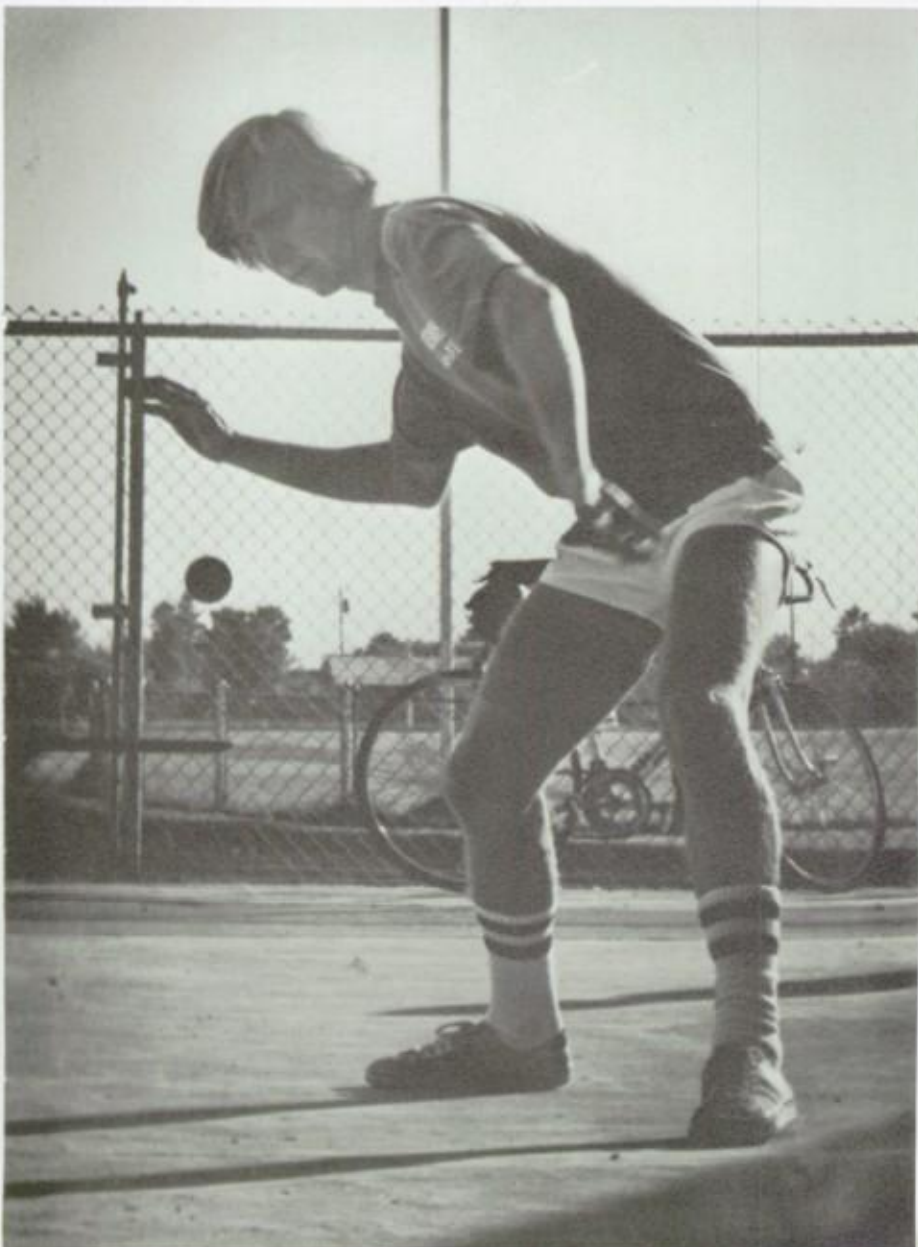

Handball provide an opportunity for recreation and competition among the students and faculty. Their activities included intra-club competition every Monday and Handball and Racketball Tournaments in October and November.

"We claim the distinction of meeting more frequently than any other club on campus. We meet every day after school and our meetings are open to anyone who would like to participate," said Jim Horne, sponsor of the Bridge Club. The main purpose is to provide an opportunity for students to learn a game which will always be a social asset and at the same time develop logic and concentration. Key Club boys sand chairs as service project Beginning his first year as sponsor of Key Club, Mr. Ronquillo, along with the officers, planned many events.

In October, the Key Club boys conducted a car wash. As a service event, they went to the Camelback cafeteria and sanded all five hundred chairs. Along with Dorian, they held a party for retarded children in December.

Conventions included a District Convention in Albuquerque in April. In July, an International Convention in Houston was planned, in which three officers planned to participate.

Sophomore, junior and senior boys were allowed to join Key Club and this year there were 85 members.

Leo membership increases over previous year

Starting first as a small club, Leo quadrupled their membership, raising it from last year's seven members to over thirty this year.

One big accomplishment was being able to pay national dues, enabling them to become more involved with other Leo clubs, and able to send delegates to the International conventions.

Several events occurred early this year, including a "Get-Acquainted" party, a poster party, and a car wash. The money from the car wash made it possible for them to pay the national dues.

A major problem during the school year was the demise of many previously active clubs. Among those to leave the scene was Bicycle, Yoga, and Weather Observers. Libertine almost left but was saved at the last minute by a handfull of dedicated students. Late in the spring semester Girls League also had difficulties resulting in a meeting with the Activities office and the possible disbanding of the club.

Clubs serve the purpose of acquainting the students with social, service, or possible career opportunities information. As such three new clubs entered the social whirl of school life . . . Medical Careers, Photography, and Flying.

Flying Club promotes interest in aviation career opportunities

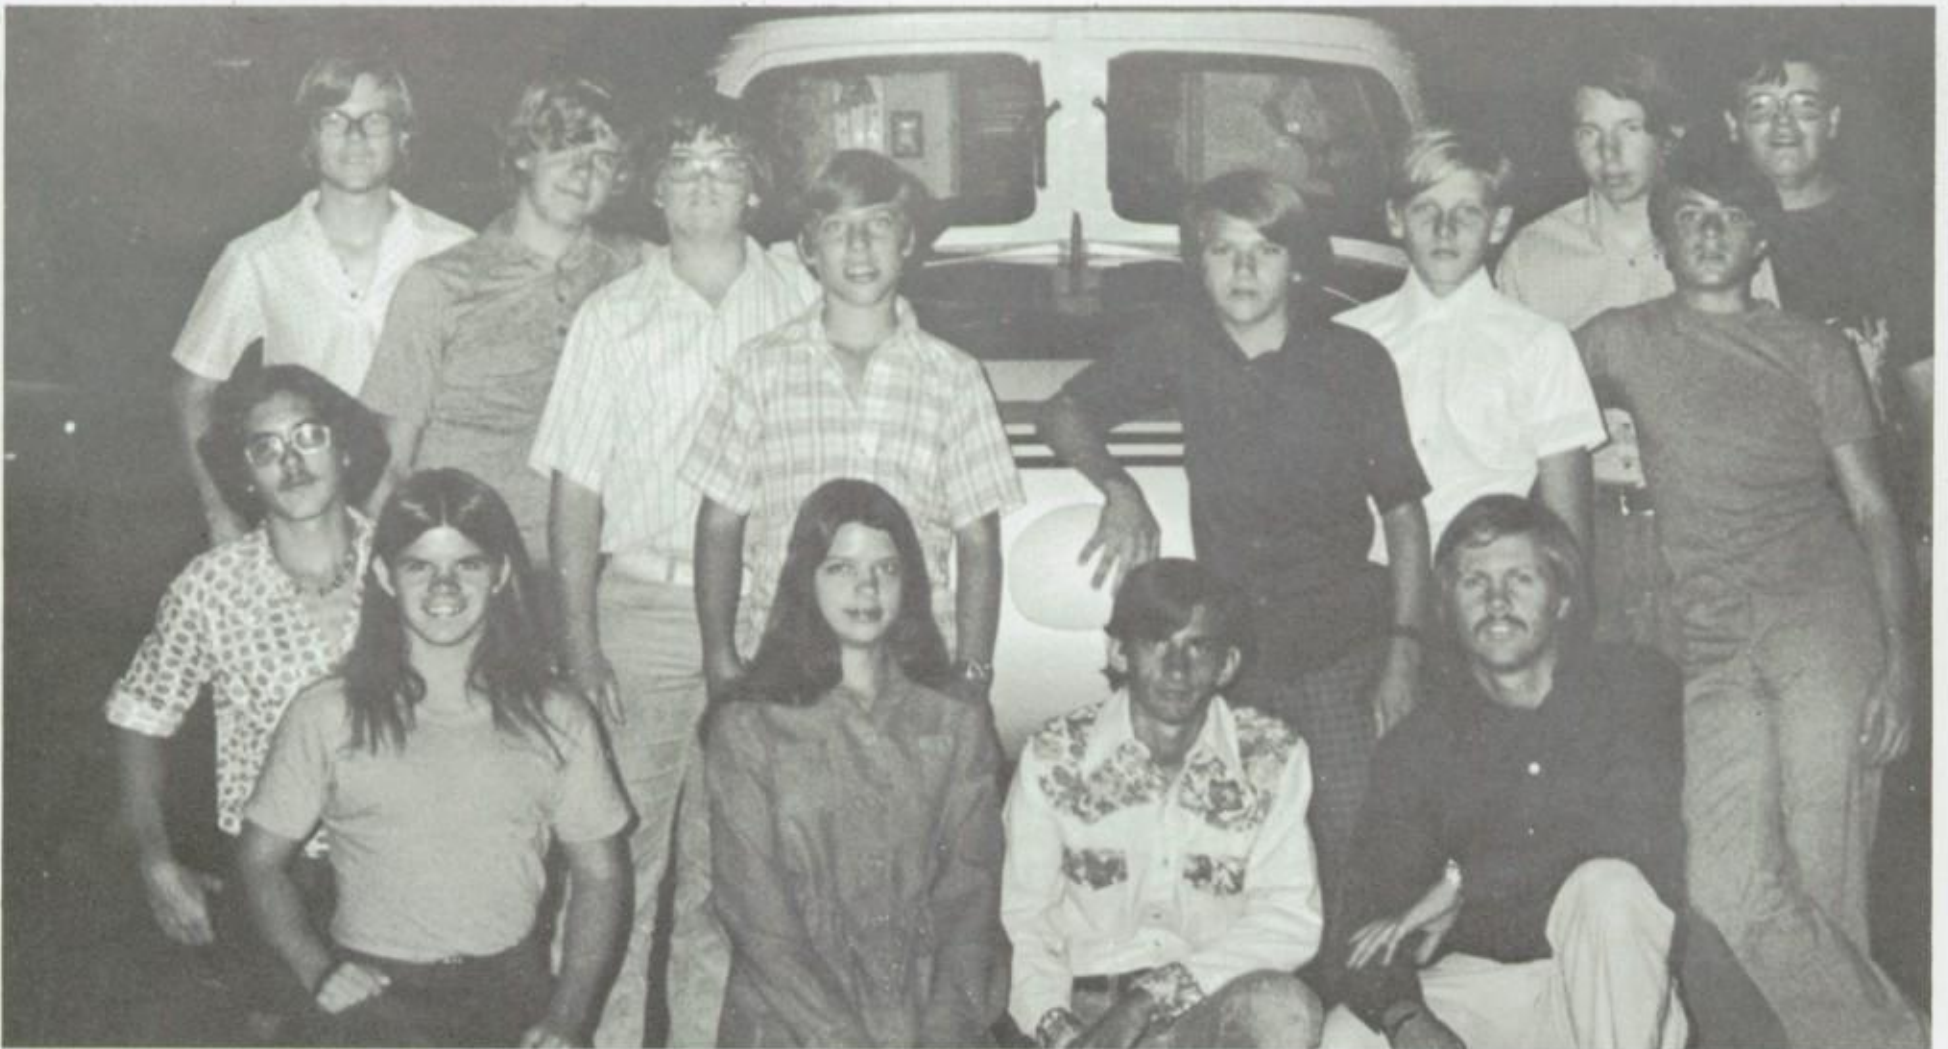

Flying Club was designed to promote interest in general aviation and career opportunities for all students. It was started at the end of the 1973-74 school year by Robert Chiprano because of his interest in being a commercial pilot and he figured that other students might also be interested in flying.

The goals of the club were to pass their FAA written exam for private pilots license and to increase their knowledge of flying in the various fields of aviation.

They, also, hope to convince the School Board members to start a flying class.

The only requirements were that the student must have a desire to learn and must attend 75% of the meetings.

The Flying Club has toured the airport facilities, Trans-World Airlines, and Hughes Air West. They have also visited Air National Guard, and both of the air force bases.

Leann Rozich blows up a balloon as a part of a game during a Girls' League Halloween party. In the background, President Francesca Scarlata and other members of Girls' League look on.

Katie Mangotich parades through Camelback as a part of Girls' League's initiation of officers.

Girls' League sponsors party for handicapped

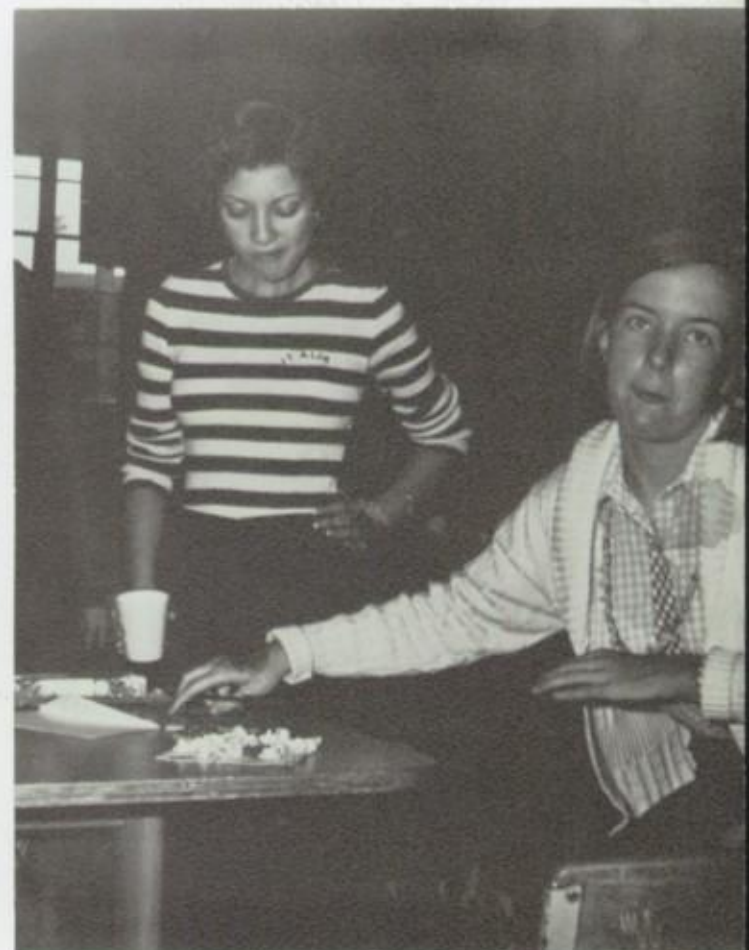

Activities have been plentiful this year for Girls' League," reported Katie Mangotich, historian.

Early events included selling astro-pops, and having a Halloween party. As a portion of fulfilling the purpose of Girls' League, a service club, the girls adopted a family for Thanksgiving and also visited them. Later in the year, the girls sponsored a Christmas party for the handicapped. During Christmas time they sold candy canes and decoupage.

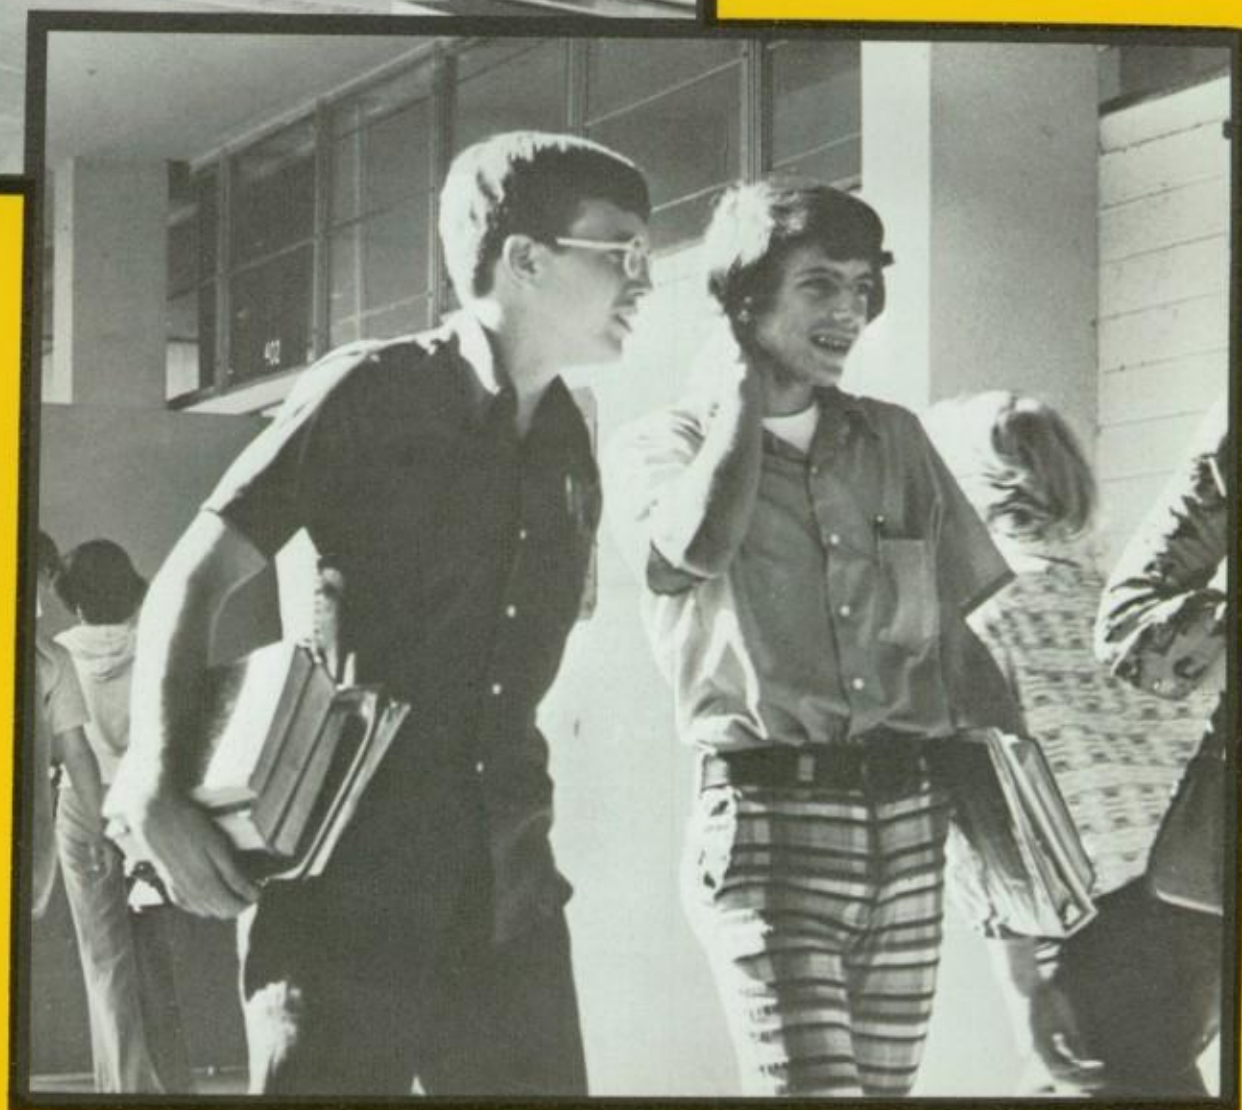

Membership was not large this year, yet officers felt they accomplished a great deal.

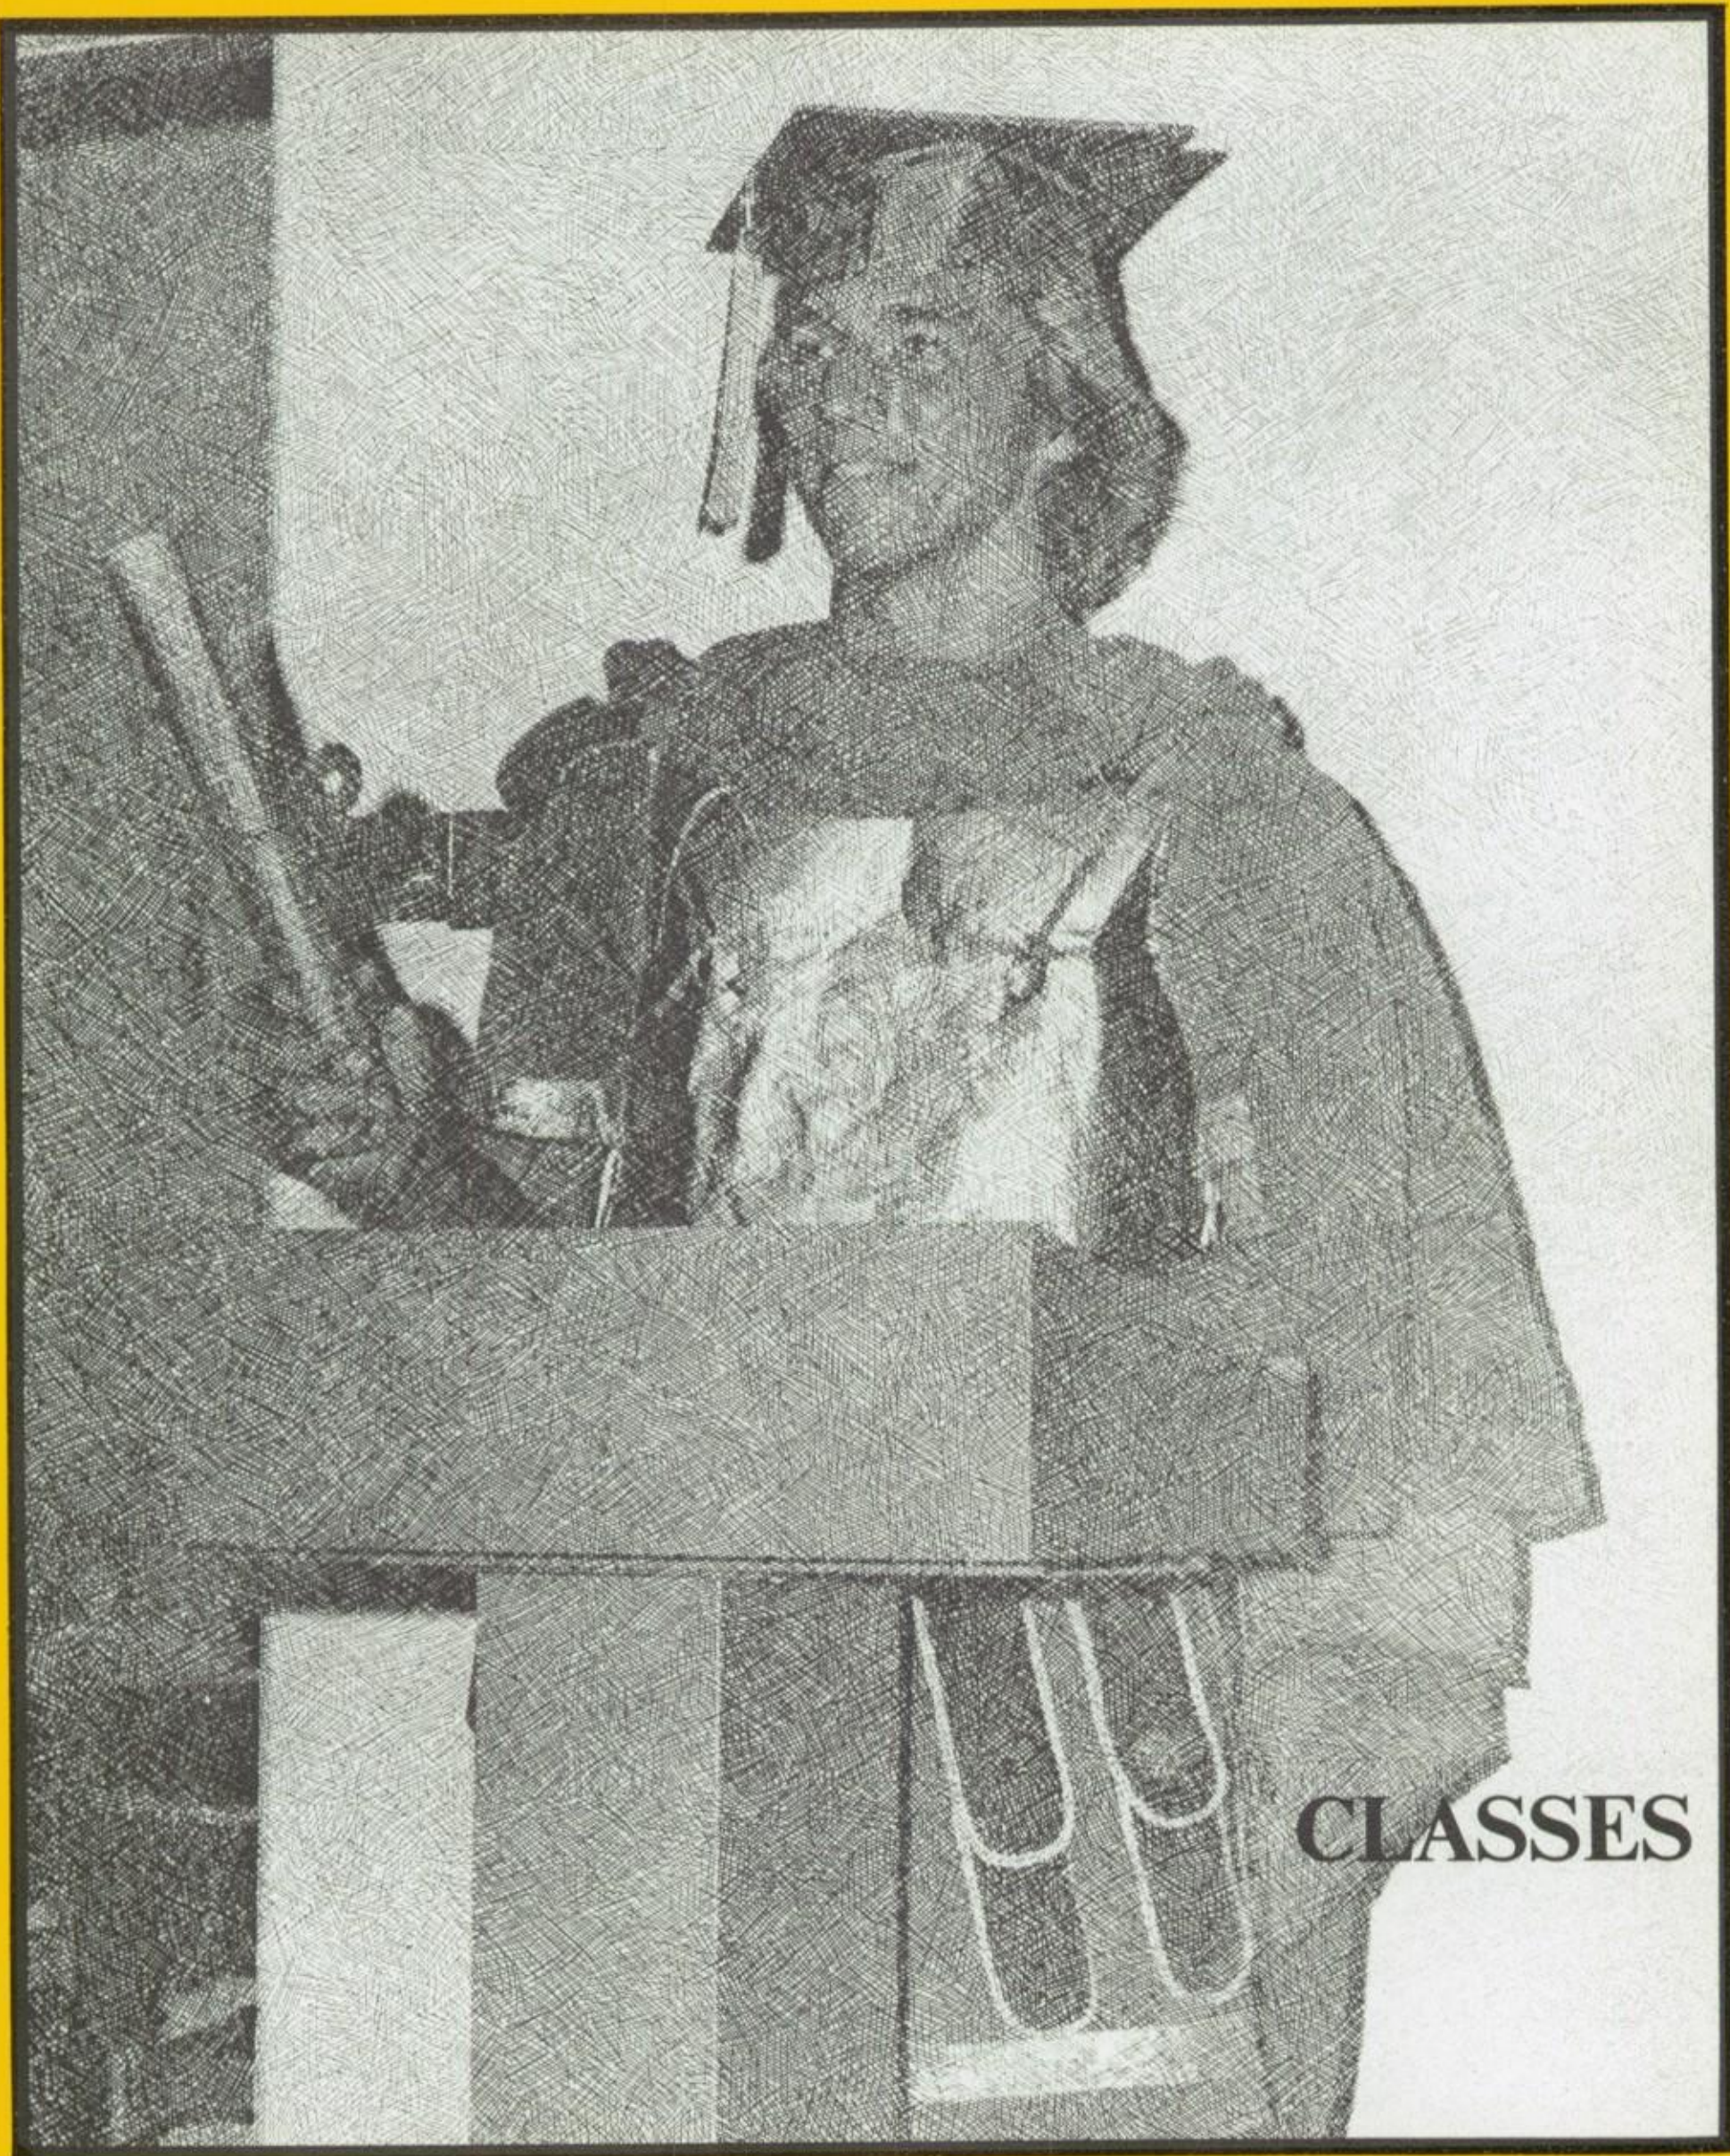

Girls' League member Jill Kristal persuades Camelback graduate Judy Heiser to purchase a mint stick. The mint sticks were sold at Christmas time as a fund raising activity for Girls' League.

Francesca Scarlata and Amy Hirsch munch on some food after a Girls' League meeting.

Senior Class sells balloons; profits $100

Several activities were available to Seniors throughout the year. The Senior Class sold balloons at the Homecoming football game and profited $100. The class also sold Carnations for Valentine's Day.

Seniors went to Disneyland instead of having an all-night party.

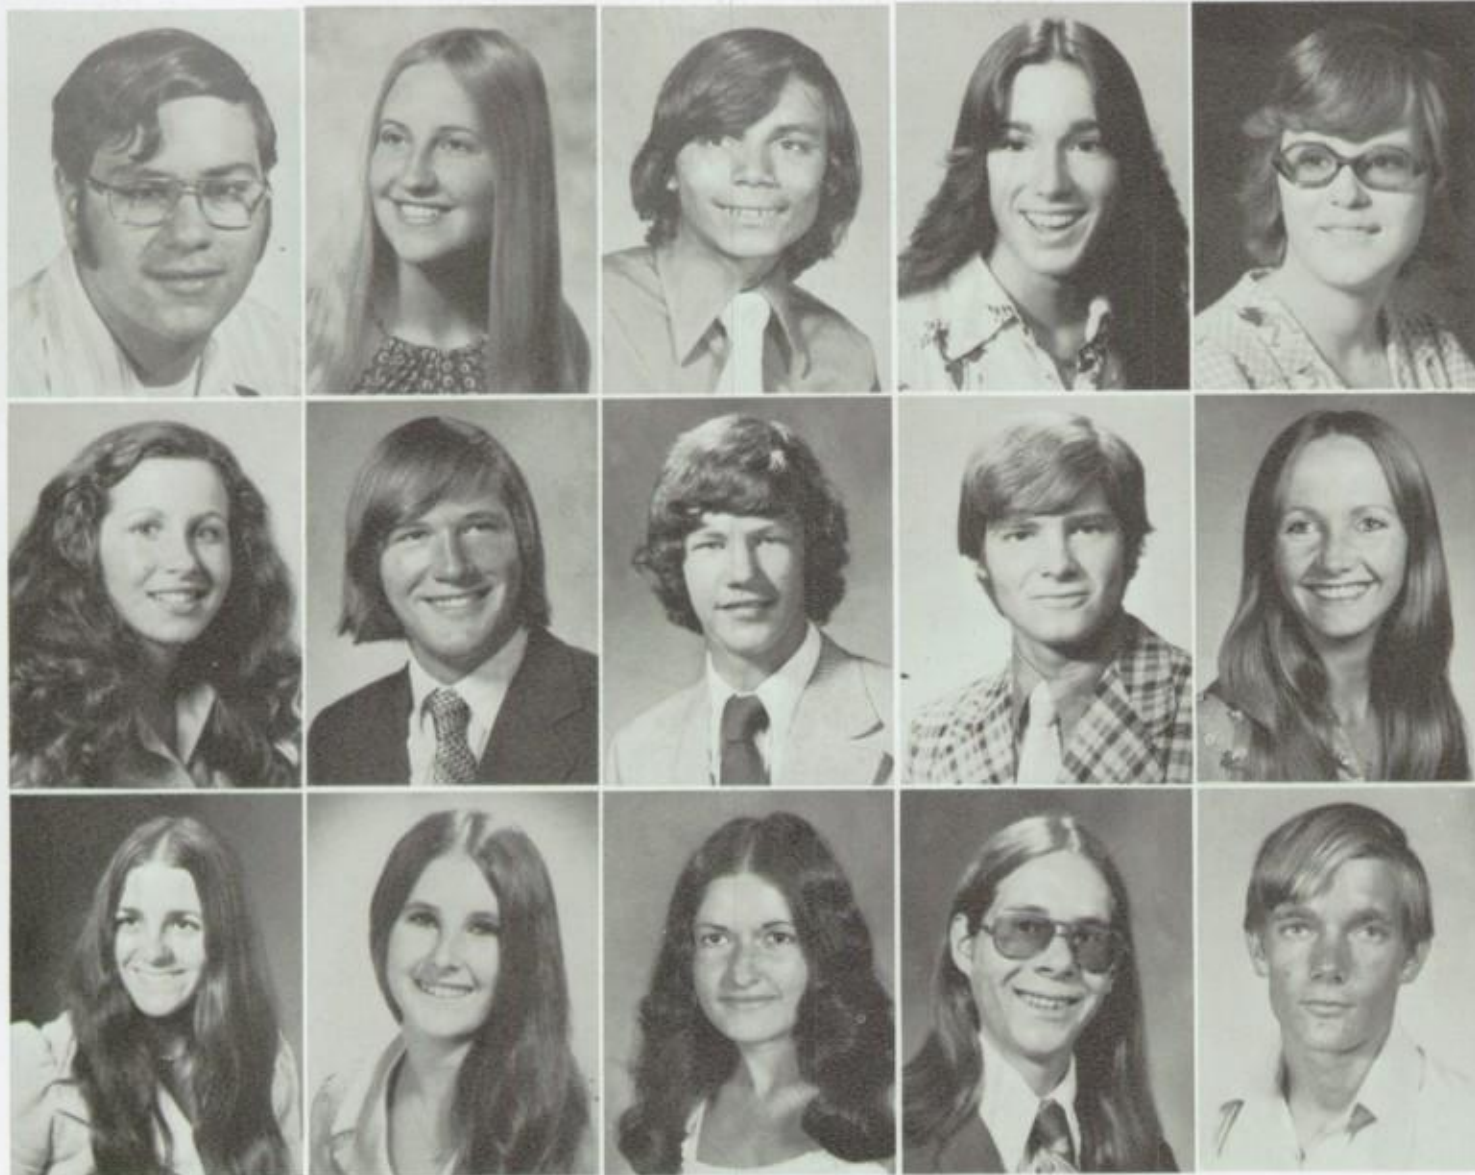

Senior girls displayed their athletic ability in the Powder Puff football game which was played against the Junior Class girls in February.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—President Sue Malinski, Secretary Kelley Brumley, Vice-president Sue Shackelford, Treasurer Barbie Gercke.

Best Prom, high spirit, goals for Junior Class

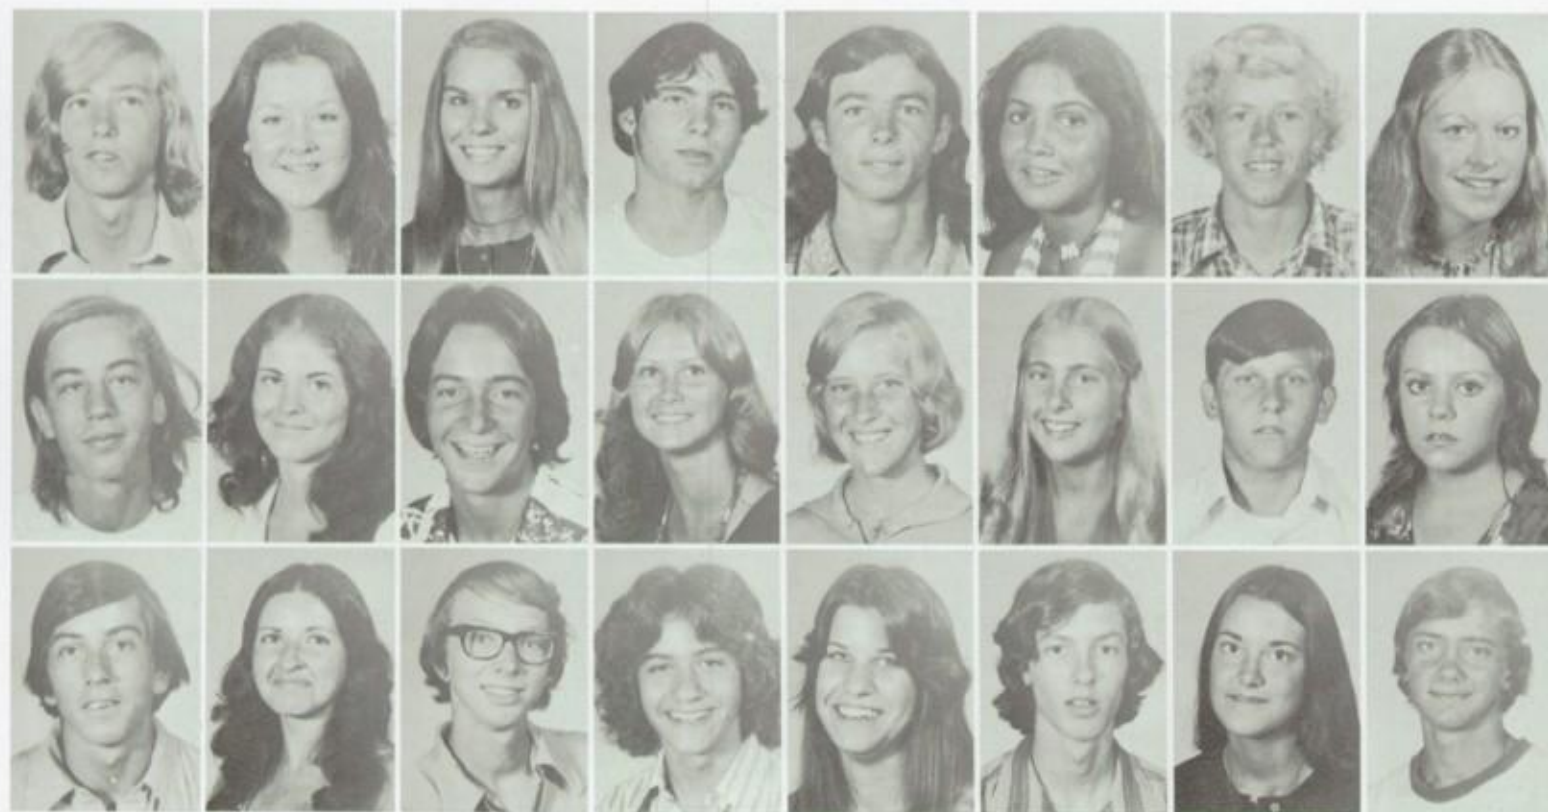

Having one of the best Junior-Senior Proms and to get more spirit out of the students were two of the main goals for the Junior Class.

This year's Prom theme was "Color My World." To raise money for the Prom, the Juniors held an Open House that made $220 and a Car Wash that raised $67.

Fun projects included a popcorn stringing contest for Christmas which included all the classes.

Spirit vital to class activities comments Wells

"Class involvement, participation and spirit are vital parts of our activities and this year we are striving to obtain more of it," commented Kathy Wells, secretary.

The Sophomore class had a year full of activities that included a car wash, numerous poster parties, provided entertainment for the underprivileged and co-sponsored the annual Basketbrawl. Sophomores also took part in urging other classes to participate in making Basketbrawl into a week activity instead of just one day.

Lack of funds plague hopes of spirited Frosh

This year's Freshmen seem to have more school spirit and enthusiasm than those in years past," said Freshmen Class sponsor Ken Johnson. "They have a lot of great ideas, and are anxious to make them happen."

Freshmen Class officers were: Karen Aidem; President, Cynthia Soto; Vice-President, Carrie Howard; Secretary, and Lisa Bierer; Treasurer.

This year the Freshmen Class sponsored the Christmas Dance, and co-sponsored the Basketbrawl with the Sophomores. They also held two sales in November and April.

FRESHMEN CLASS OFFICERS—Treasurer Lisa Bierer, President Karen Aidem, Secretary Carrie Howard, Vice President Cynthia Soto.

FRESHMEN CLASS COUNCIL—Front Row: Karen Aidem, Lisa Bierer, Yelena Oughton, Cynthia Soto, Second Row: Elaine Whipple, Cherie Ory, Carrie Howard, Robin Wools, Debbie Metzger, Dawn

Byrne, Third Row: Karrie Stiteler, Louise Cuda, Margie Pierce, Tom Tweet, Sharon Parks, Sharon Wilson, Debbie Harris.

Can You Find the Shield Staffer?

CHILDRESS—Too Bad. Gimmick: Likes taking pictures of birdies and anything else that happens to come his way. 8. OBIE "HAYSEED" O'BRIEN—You lose buckwheat. Gimmick: Moved in from Ajo and is trying to make it in the big city. 9. KAREN $ZERO$ RICHARDSON—Are you kidding?! Gimmick: Runs the welcome wagon into town, but the cops run it out. 10. NINA "BOOKWORM" LAUGHLIN—Not quite. Gimmick: I.Q. 451. Finds pleasure in reading upside down and backwards. 11. BRUCE DICK ROB-BINS—Right on. No Gimmick. Just looking for clean, cool recruits to carry on the tradition of the Spartan Shield.

If YOU want to change your gimmick join the 1975-76 Shield Staff.

1. JIMBO "MARX" BOLEK—Uh, Uh. Illegitimate son of Groucho. Gimmick: Wandered into the picture while looking for an elephant in his pajamas. 2. JANET "SPACED OUT" HABETLER—No. Gimmick: Freaks out over Greek statuary; is constant companion of 3. CLYDE S. SPARTAN—Nope. Gimmick: Resident bust of room 6102. 4. CAROL "PICASSO" HUNTER—Nope. Gimmick: A failing artist. Her failing—she can't paint by the numbers. 5. MIKE "DIMPLES" RECKARDS—Wrong. Gimmick: Musclemán turned hairdresser. Does his best work on 6. PAT "BOOM-BOOM" KEARNS—Wrong again. Gimmick: Tried out for the Varsity squad; received 28 passes and scored on them all. 7. BOBBY "INSTAMATIC"

The SHIELD is looking for a few good men (and women).

'IN MY BEGINNING IS MY END'

T.S. Eliot

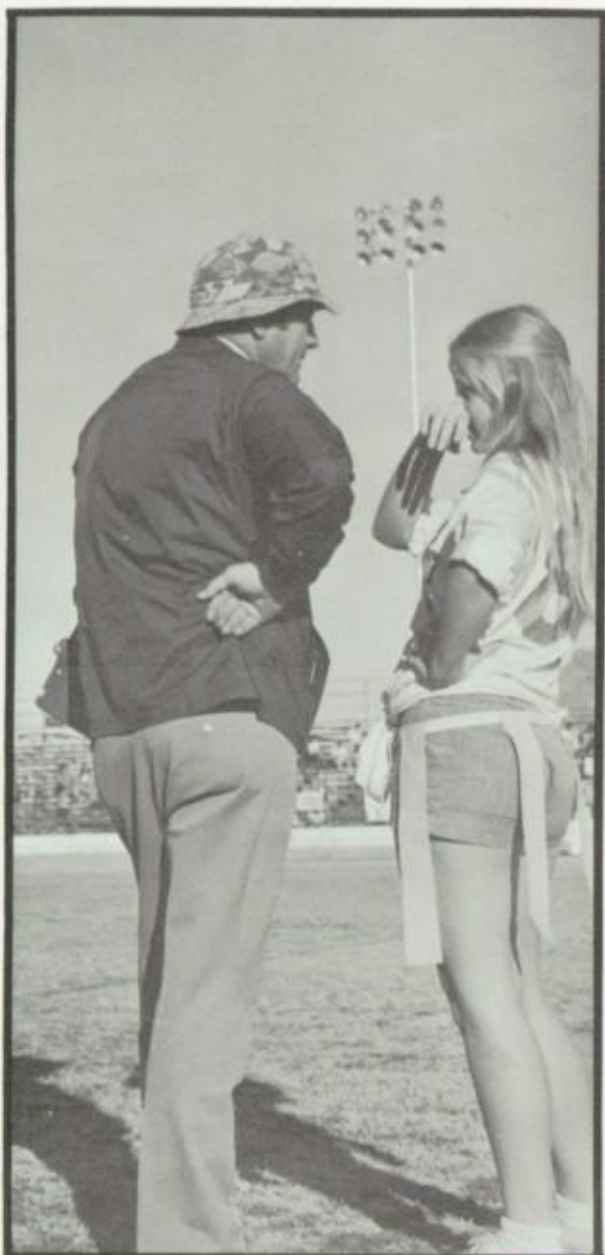

At the start of every human endeavor a wide range of possibilities as to the end result are in sight. What the actual end will be depends on what actions are taken during the course of time the project is in effect.

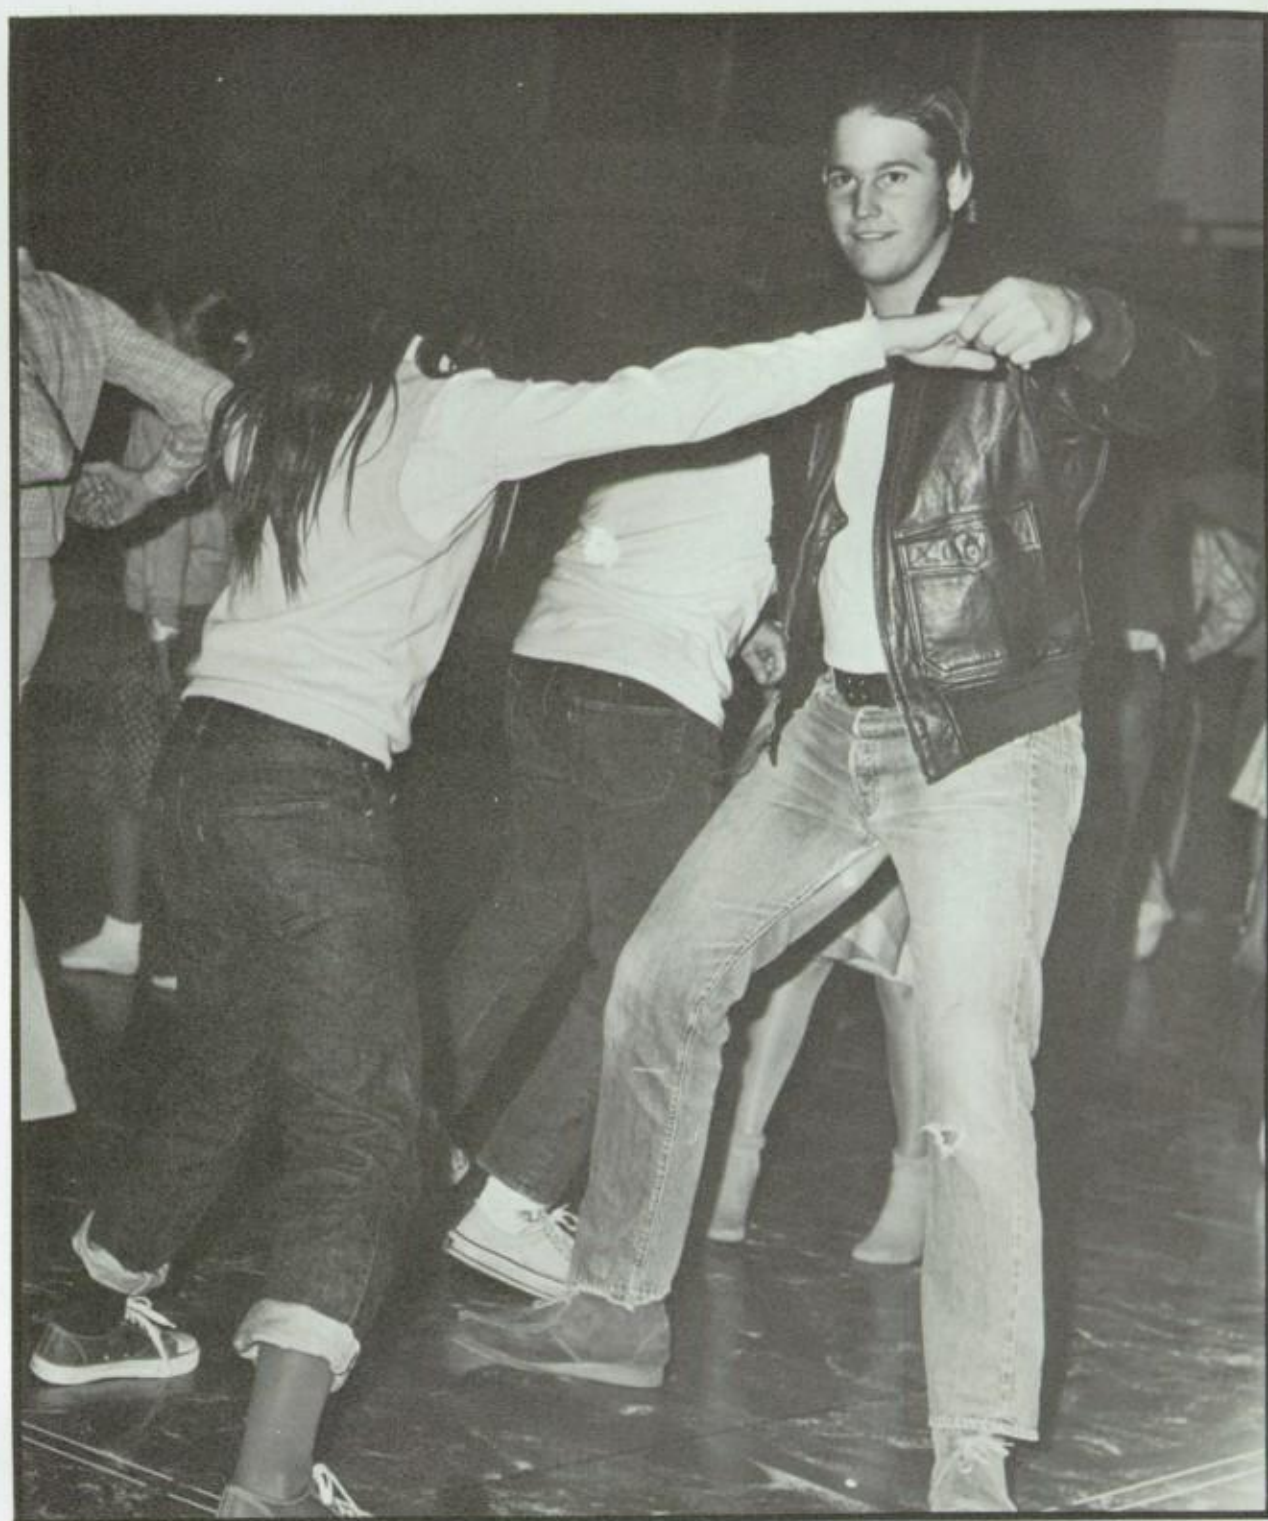

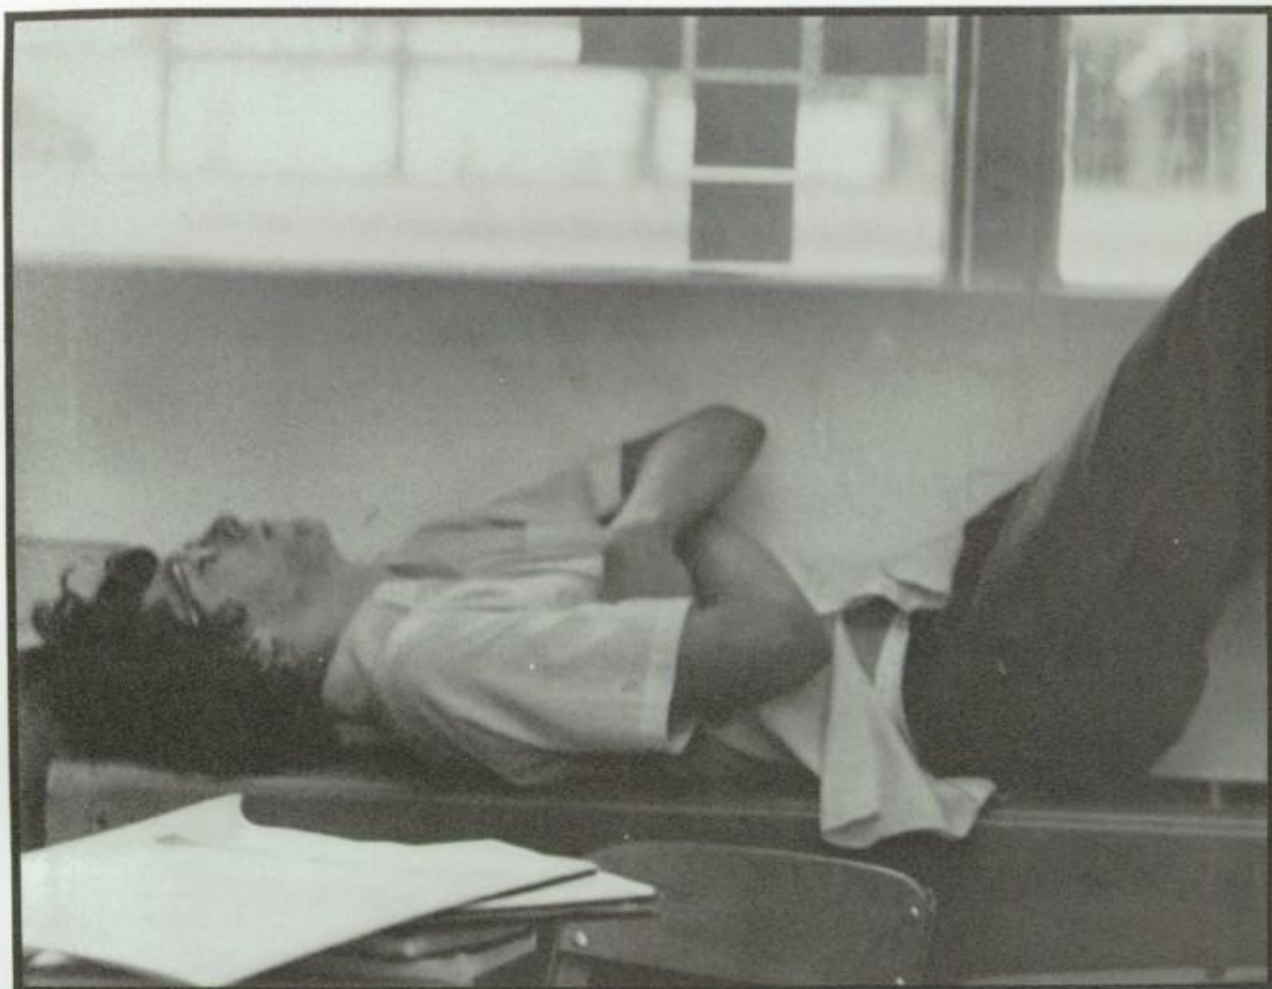

Projects undertaken at Camelback such as the drive to pass the Bond issue was started with a specific goal in sight and that goal was accomplished through hard work from the outset by interested students, parents and teachers.

On the other hand, clubs and campus organizations have disbanded or failed to live up to expectations due to the lack of interest shown by the students involved, who were not willing to donate time required to make their undertaking successful.

The success or failure of projects undertaken during a lifetime, or the success of life itself depends on you.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:

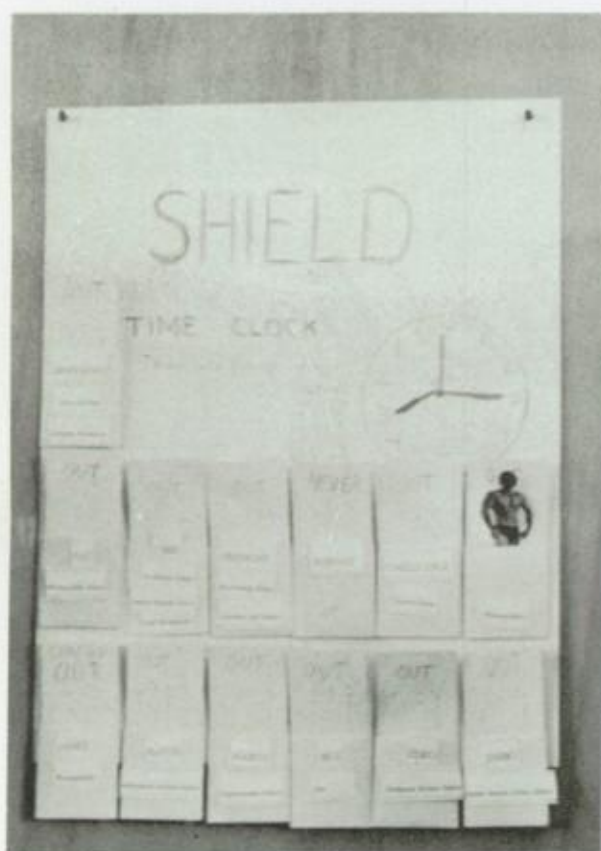

- Ron Nielsen, Julie Cramer and all Community Press employees for their patience with our failure to meet deadlines.
- Magna Labs for our color prints
- Doug Hildebrandt for the In Memoriam print
- Bobby Childress for donating his time helping us finish late print orders.
- The Journalism and photography classes for their help when we asked for it.
- Debbie Duel for typing the Index
- All Clubs and teams who had their group shots retaken again and again and a. . .
- Mrs. Hunter for driving the finished pages to the printer
- Our parents who held their peace when we worked overtime at the SHIELD office.

For the past twenty-one years, the SHIELD has traditionally presented the events that highlighted each year.

This year was a big year for many of the students at CHS, and we hope we have successfully preserved the tradition of capturing the many happenings and events that have taken place during the course of 1974-75.

Chuck,

What can I say. This year has been the best years of my life. Especially the beginning of the year. I hope
I get to see you th is summer.

I'm glad I got a chance to really know you. I think you are one of the most sweetest, cutest people I have ever met in my whole life. What else can I say. Love you always Betty

Chucky Baby,
It's been very interesting of that fake scene of I wouldn't knowing you, do anything "it" (just kidding) body, and don't do the limit.
do, which means "shies the you again do, which means hope to see you again fake scene hope!
fake soon.
Love Sandy

Chuck,
Let me just say
it ~~was~~ was an experience having you in my class. No really I'm glad you were. You really brought a lot of life in there. I don't know how Mehart put up with
you. Hope to see you
this summer.

Love,
Barb

Chuck -
It was fun partying with the people. We have to track now have fun - See ya
probably on the road
again someone. ~~deag~~
Love Kelly

to a real party who can't hold his liquor
good luck in the future
